Full-time posts for 200 staff at Amazon

TWO HUNDRED temporary workers have been taken on full-time by online retailer Amazon.

The permanent positions have been made available at the company's Rugeley fulfilment centre.

The company had taken on 1,000 extra workers at the 800,000sq ft centre at the Towers Business Park towards the end of last year.

Catherine McDermott, director of UK operations, said: "We're delighted that so many of our top performing temporary associates have now joined us on a permanent basis.

Operations

"Amazon has invested over £1 billion in its UK operations including our fulfilment centre in Rugeley."

She added that Amazon was committed to opening further UK warehouses over the next two years, creating an extra 2,000 permanent positions.

The online retailer opened its huge base next to Rugeley Power Station, in September 2011. It was opened by Prime Minister David Cameron and initially brought with it 900 jobs.

Geoff Martin, Rugeley town councillor and Staffordshire county councillor, welcomed the new permanent jobs.

He said: "It's wonderful news for Rugeley and for the wider area."

Replica war site unveiled

A SCALED model of a First World War battlefield built on Cannock Chase is to be unveiled.

Two training camps were constructed by the British Army on the Chase and were used to help ready thousands of men for conflict.

The battlefield was a replica of the Messines Ridge near Ypres and will be uncovered in a project led by Staffordshire County Council and funded by Natural England.

It's snow fun for some as cold snap bites

SEVERE weather conditions forced schools to close, services to be put on hold and extensive traffic delays. Wolgarston High School in Cannock Road, Penkridge, was one of the few to have battled through the snow, with just one out of around 80 members of staff failing to attend.

Staff, teachers and pupils came together at Great Wyrley High School to clear the grounds on Tuesday to ensure it could be reopened yesterday (Wednesday).

Up to 20 teachers and staff and a handful of pupils braved the cold to move snow from the grounds of the school in Hall Lane following an appeal by headteacher Chris Leach.

The snow has, however, proved great fun for most, as shops quickly sold out of sledges and snowmen quickly appeared. It has also proved perfect for pictures – with photos of snowy scenes across Cannock Chase and of its abundant wildlife.

Sledging

Paramedics have faced a surge in 999 calls over the snowy period and have been called to a spate of snow-related injuries, themselves facing perilous trips over frozen hills to reach people injured while out sledging.

Young workers were praised for helping clear the path for shoppers in Cannock town centre.

The youths, Phil Treadwell and Mitch White, are employed by Jessica's Fresh Foods in Market Hall Street. Last Saturday, they cleared the pathway outside the nearby Forum shopping centre and gritted it to make the passage safer for users. A district council CCTV operator, who saw the lads in action, applauded the teenage boys' efforts.

She said: "We tend to be a community where we are quick to complain. Maybe a bit of recognition where it's due would go some way in showing that not all youths in this area are troublemakers."

And carers at Bluebird Care in Cannock have been praised by their business director for their efforts to reach all their customers.

Allen Willey said: "We have seen many examples of carers 'going the extra mile' to ensure everyone receives the care they need."

SHOW TRUE GRIT TO BUS USERS PLEA

RESIDENTS in Cannock say they fear someone could be seriously injured as bus stands and shelters are not being gritted during the recent cold snap.

Market traders are concerned for people who frequently use buses as their main mode of transport because of the icy footpaths and claim the decision not to grit shelters is affecting their business.

by Charlotte Lilley

Stallholder Margaret Lavender said: "A lot of my customers have been complaining about the condition of the pavements at bus stops. Most of them are elderly and come to the market by bus, but with the slippery footpaths they are afraid to venture out.

Buckets

"Traders are losing customers because the council hasn't gritted its bus stops. It's a shame they haven't considered this because the elderly in particular are the ones that keep us going."

Staffordshire County Council said people should help themselves to the grit buckets to keep bus stops and shelters clear.

A spokesman said: "We grit 43 per cent of the roads in the county. We do our best to get down side roads but we can't get round to every bus stop. We do have grit buckets so people can help themselves."

One resident claimed the shelters and pedestrian areas at Cannock bus station had not been gritted by the council since last Friday.

The depot underwent £50,000 of safety improvements last year after 74-year-old Ann Draper was knocked over and killed by a bus. But residents say it is still a danger in the current conditions.

Trader Anne Franks said: "My customers, some with children and pushchairs, find ungritted footpaths in the bus station very daunting and dangerous. Why is there no grit?"

Cannock Chase Council said it would send someone out to try to resolve the issue.

Postman makes mark on calendar

Postman Tony Burns, from Rugeley, who survived prostate cancer and is now appearing on a fundraising Royal Mail calendar

A ROYAL Mail worker from Rugeley is featuring in a 2013 calendar to raise awareness of a charity fundraising campaign.

Around 150,000 employees across the company are being made aware of the prostate cancer fundraising initiative.

Postman Tony Burns is among those appearing on a calendar that will be sent to staff at Royal Mail and Parcelforce Worldwide sites across the UK. It aims to inspire employees to get involved in fundraising activities over the next 12 months.

Tony, a prostate cancer survivor, is the cover shot for October. He was picked to feature in the calendar after organising a local charity golf day, raising £280 for Macmillan Cancer Support.

Matched

He said "I'm delighted to be included in the Royal Mail 2013 calendar. Royal Mail Group's match giving scheme is a great motivation for employees to get involved in fundraising for charity. I hope this calendar inspires more colleagues to do so in the year ahead."

Royal Mail Group has raised more than £400,000 for Movember in aid of charity partner Prostate Cancer UK, including money matched by the company. Royal Mail Group employees raised the most amount of money for Movember by a single UK company network.

Royal Mail Group matches penny for penny any money raised under its Charity of the Year scheme.

Agency nurses in £133 per hour pay

THE trust which runs Cannock and Stafford Hospitals has paid agency nurses up to £133 per hour to work in its A&E department, it has been revealed.

This is around nine times the salary of NHS nurses and would amount to an annual salary of £230,000.

Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust has paid one of the highest rates for nursing agency staff in the country, according to the data, released under the Freedom of Information Act.

The most paid out to cover an A&E shift was £1,794, to Thornbury Nursing Services, one of the largest agencies in the UK.

Safety

It was paid to cover 13.5 hours at the Accident and Emergency department of Stafford Hospital in December 2011.

Colin Ovington, director of nursing and midwifery at Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust, said when extra staff were needed patient safety was given a higher priority than cost.

"This means that we have to pay the going rate for those staff who are available to cover, sometimes at short notice," he said. "These costs are often extremely high, due to the agencies' fees. The payment includes travel expenses, too."

'Questions have to be answered'

Councillor Toth – clear

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley says questions must be answered following the Monitor report into the finances of Mid Staffordshire Foundation Trust.

The MP called for a new structure to be introduced "as soon as possible".

"This report makes it clear that there is no future for the Mid Staffs Foundation Trust in its current form," Mr Burley said. "However, the report means that a number of people have questions to answer."

Mr Burley also urged the trust to set out its plans for Cannock Hospital. He has already been in talks with Monitor over his idea to make it community-run hospital.

"Mid Staffordshire Foundation Trust needs to explain why the report says theatre utilisation rates are low at Cannock Hospital, when the average waiting time for a hip replacement in Cannock is 127.5 days, against a national average of 103 days," he said.

"Why does the report state that the issue for Cannock theatres is insufficient demand when local people are waiting longer than average and theatres are lying empty? The Trust also needs to explain why there is a figure of £5.4 million to 'increase the rentable value of Cannock Hospital'.

"Who are the trust planning to rent the hospital out to and why do they think it is a good use of taxpayers' money to spend £5.4m to do so?"

Deputy Cannock Chase Council leader Councillor Janos Toth said: "My position is pretty clear, that Cannock Hospital should remain in the national health service. There should be no hare-brained schemes about putting libraries or classrooms in there or private health providers."

Health trust no longer viable, says watchdog

Cannock Chase Hospital, Brunswick Road, whose future is in doubt after the Monitor report

Cannock Chase Conservative MP Aidan Burley

SCANDAL-HIT Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust has been deemed financially and clinically unsustainable in a damning report by health watchdog Monitor.

An independent investigation has found there is also "no credible plan" in place to rescue the trust, which runs both Cannock and Stafford Hospitals.

A panel of experts called in last September to review the trust's dire financial state has concluded it will not be able to provide safe care on a sustainable basis in the future.

The number of people visiting the hospitals has fallen since it emerged between 400 and 1,200 patients may have died at Stafford Hospital due to failings in standards of care between 2005 and 2009.

Experts also say despite investment in new staff, the trust does not have the level of employees to run a 24/7, consultant-led A&E, emergency surgery and paediatric departments.

The report, released last Thursday, has sparked fresh fears for the future of Cannock Hospital.

A campaign was launched last year to safeguard services at the Brunswick Road facility amid fears they were being stripped away.

Report by Kirsten Rawlins

The Monitor report reveals that Mid Staffordshire NHS Trust is set to deliver a deficit in 2013 of £15 million and that it would now need to make £53m of savings in five years just to break even.

It would also require a £73m subsidy from the Department of Health over that period.

Once Monitor has received the final report in March, it will decide what action to take and whether to put the trust into "special administration". The watchdog stressed it was clear that "the trust has made substantial clinical improvements to the quality of care", but that it also lacks both patients and staff. Stafford Hospital's &E department has been closed overnight since December 2011 due to difficulties in recruiting enough staff to keep it open.

Professor Hugo Mascie-Taylor, clinical advisor to the contingency planning team at Monitor, said: "In the past the trust struggled to maintain high quality clinical services at the same time as reaching its financial targets and even now it is struggling to achieve recommended levels of staffing.If the Department removed its financial subsidy it is clear that clinical services would suffer."

The report states that without continuing cash support, the trust is unable to pay its debts and would be deemed insolvent. The Department of Health gave the trust £20m last year.

Trust chief executive Lyn Hill-Tout said: "Mid Staffs is not financially sustainable in its current form because, despite all the efforts, not only of the trust, but of the local health service, we do not have a plan which brings us to financial break even by 2015.

"Similar financial challenges are being faced across the country by smaller general hospitals. The board agrees with the Contingency Planning Team's assessment, which we first learned about in December and is now summarised in their report to Monitor."

Explain

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley said: "The last Labour government has to explain why they ever granted foundation trust status to a trust which has lost money every year since 2009 – just one year after it was formed," he said.

Mr Burley said the report also included a figure of £5.4m to "increase the rentable value of Cannock Hospital" and called for the trust to reveal its future plans for the site.

Cannock Chase Council's health chief Muriel Davis said: "Cannock Hospital is very important for what it does now but we need to encourage more services to be provided there."

Futures of sites are now in doubt

The trust's Lyn Hill-Tout

QUESTION marks are hanging over the future of Cannock and Stafford Hospitals following the damning report by Monitor.

According to the report, Mid Staffs NHS Foundation Trust does not have "the level of staffing required to run a 24/7, high quality, consultant delivered service across a number of services including A&E, emergency services and paediatrics".

This is despite the trust increasing its pay expenditure by £9.1m on extra staff in 2010. The report adds low staffing levels are partly due to "recent reputational challenges" which has made recruitment more difficult.

Monitor also claims that were Mid Staffs "to increase its minimum consultant levels, it is likely the number of patients referred to it would be insufficient for consultants to maintain their skills and experience".

Existing

It also states "the usage of theatres in Cannock is low" – "with the utilisation of sessions at Cannock being as low as 60 per cent for the four orthopaedic theatres".

The report highlights the possibility of alternative use of the Brunswick Road site, which it says "could potentially increase the rentable value of the site and further reduce the existing outgoings by £1.5 million".

It does, however, say "the estimated capital cost of achieving this is £5.4 million".

Experts are now considering how services should be provided in a way which meets the needs of patients and is also sustainable.

Trust chief executive Lyn Hill-Tout said: "We accept that Mid Staffs is not clinically or financially sustainable. We are pleased that the assessment, which has been detailed and thorough, has confirmed that we are operationally sustainable and have demonstrated this."

Council's budget to stay same

HOUSEHOLDERS in Hednesford will not be charged extra for facilities after town councillors agreed for the fourth year running not to increase the budget.

The decision has been prompted by the continuing economic slump.

The town council collects a precept from Cannock Chase Council of £130,000 towards amenities, including street cameras, a public toilet and civic events from council tax.

The money is allocated according to population figures, equating to £9.70 per elector.

Councillor Derek Davis, the chairman of Hednesford town council's finance committee, said that for the first time town and parish councils across the UK had difficulty setting their annual budgets after the government altered the way that grants are awarded to local authorities.

"The town council, like everyone else, has not been immune to increasing costs, particularly in fuel and postage. Nevertheless I am delighted to confirm that due to careful financial management the town council has been able to cap the precept at the same level as last year."

The evening has been organised by Burntwood & District Royal British Legion Women's Branch. It takes place on Friday, February 15, from 7.30pm to midnight at Grangemoor Working Men's Club, in Cannock Road.

Branch chairman Sharon Banevicius, said: "What better way to say 'Love Me Do' to your Valentine than taking them out for a great night with the Beatless."

Tickets are £6, available from Affinity Homecare, 15 High Street, Chasetown, on 01543 677227.

CCTV upgraded

A COMMUNITY centre in Great Wyrley has had its CCTV cameras upgraded. The parish council has recently installed a system with better images costing £2,200 to the Landywood Lane facility. Chairman Councillor Kath Perry said it would provide clearer images of the centre.

Youngsters rehearse world record attempt

SCHOOLCHILDREN across Cannock are taking part in a world record attempt next month – and are being asked to film their rehearsals.

More than 1,000 schools – including Littleton Green Primary in Huntington and two from Lichfield – have so far signed up for the sign2sing event on February 6. They hope to break the record for most people signing and signing at the same time.

Participating teachers and pupils can share videos of their rehearsals on the charity's social media pages in the run up to the day. Steve Powell, chief executive at SignHealth, the national healthcare charity for deaf people, said: "So far more than 1,000 schools have registered for sign2sing.

"We understand many of them are already busy practising and we thought it would be fun for teachers and pupils to share videos of their progress via Twitter and Facebook.

"Videos can be uploaded to www.twitter.com/sign2sing and www.facebook.com/sign2sing in the run up to sign2sing. We look forward to seeing how schools are getting on."

The record attempt takes place at 2.45pm and will be SignHealth's third sign2sing event. The charity is this year hoping to involve more than 175,000 youngsters. Last year 114,277 children took part, breaking the previous record of 94,489.

Camera

Steve added: "We would also like to remind schools in Cannock and Lichfield that they will need to film or photograph their performances on sign2sing day and this can be done using a camera or a mobile phone.

"The videos and photos will be sent to Guinness World Records along with the paperwork, so it can confirm whether we have broken the record."

On the day of the record bid, children are being asked to wear a scarf like the book character Olli from Monkey Manor in return for a £1 donation.

Money raised will be used to continue the charity's work helping to improve the mental and physical health and well-being of deaf people, including deaf children.

Schools wishing to take part are invited to register their interest via www.sign2sing.org.uk

Police determined to catch on-the-run murder suspect

DETECTIVES say they are still determined to catch a murder suspect who remains on the run 12 months after his dramatic escape from custody.

John Anslow, who is wanted in connection with the murder of Burntwood businessman Richard Deakin, was sprung from a prison van by a sledgehammer-wielding masked gang a year ago yesterday (Wednesday).

by Tim Spiers

His escape – the first by a category A prisoner in 17 years – sparked debate in the House of Lords and a security review by the Ministry of Justice.

In the past 12 months police have received more than 100 calls about the fugitive and there remains a £10,000 reward for information leading to his capture.

Sightings

On the day of the escape Anslow, aged 32, was being taken from HMP Hewell in Redditch to Stafford Crown Court for a preliminary hearing. He had been charged with the murder of Walsall skip hire boss Mr Deakin a week earlier.

Police initially investigated potential sightings in Spain but a year later Anslow, from Tipton, still remains at large.

Det Supt Wayne Jones, from Staffordshire Police, said they were keeping an open mind about whether Anslow is in the UK or abroad. He added: "This investigation is ongoing and a dedicated team of detectives continues to follow various lines of inquiry.

"We've had significant help, including over 100 calls from the public, over the past year for which we're very grateful.

"We remain determined to catch Anslow and are exploring all available avenues to do this."

The ambush in Hewell Lane, Bromsgrove, began when the gang forced the prison van to a halt by pulling a Volkswagen Scirocco in front of it. Police believe the gang then switched to a grey Mercedes, registration C63 AMG.

Anyone with information can call police on 01785 232503 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Father-of-two Mr Deakin, 27, was shot twice in his bed in Meadway Street, Chasetown, Burntwood on July 5, 2010. He ran On Time Skips in Walsall.

Care provider expands

A CANNOCK-based care provider has made a multi-million pound acquisition which will double the size of its business. Horizon Care has bought Educare Adolescent Services based in Keele.

Horizon, which provides care services for children with severe and complex emotional and behavioural needs, has been provided with a loan facility by The Co-Operative Bank. The purchase of Educare adds 21 homes and four schools to its portfolio, and gives it a presence in Leicestershire and Shropshire.

Shop is already a big hit

A NEW charity shop in Hednesford is showing signs of success with customers battling their way through the snow to visit the store.

Barnardo's on Victoria Street only opened a week ago but has already had a flood of shoppers despite the harsh weather conditions.

It was one of the latest shops, along with Boyd's hairdressers, to announce its move to the town as part of the regeneration scheme.

Tesco, Costa Coffee, Phones4u, Lloyds Pharmacy Aldi and a purpose-built bingo hall are among the other developments at the multi-million pound project.

Barnardo's manager Gaynor Taylor said: "We've had so many people coming in and buying. It's a great place to shop, the items are as good as new.

"With the recession I think we need more shops like this," Gaynor added.

"People who may not have a high income rely on second-hand clothing.

"We also need more donations and if anyone has anything they no longer wear or need please bring it in to our store."

The shop is open Monday to Saturday from 9am and is looking for volunteers to work inside. Call 01543 879131 or visit the store.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

SOME weeks ago I warned readers to watch out for hard objects while eating pheasant. They could be lead shot. It might also be wise to watch out for hard objects while eating beefburgers. They could be horseshoes.

I WANTED a DVD of a classic drama series. Even a dinosaur like me knows there are two ways to do this. The first is to get up, get the car started, drive into town, find a parking place, buy a parking ticket, make your way to the DVD shop, avoiding the Big Issue sellers and charity muggers, find the DVD is out of stock and ask the shop staff if they can get you a copy. If they can, then you repeat the entire procedure a few days later and pay way over the odds for the DVD, plus £4 or so for the parking. The other way is to go online, buy the DVD at eBay for half the high-street price and get it delivered to your door by an obliging Portuguese courier who calls you Mr Roadez. The wonder is not that HMV have gone bust but that their chain of town-centre shops lasted so long. The high street as we know it is doomed and the sooner we start turning department stores into apartments and houses, the better.

MEANWHILE, a reader who enjoys the old-fashioned shopping experience tells me in one store he was invited to "pre-order" a book. He muses, what is the difference between pre-ordering and simply ordering?

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

HERE we ago again. Yet another reader joins the growing ranks of people who, soon after encountering the NHS, get unsolicited contacts from private companies. She's a middle-aged lady who discovered at a routine blood test just before Christmas that her cholesterol was alarmingly high. Sure enough, three weeks later she was contacted by a health screening company which had already fixed a local appointment for her. She says it's either "a massive coincidence or something very fishy." Having had dozens of similar reports from readers, I think we can dismiss the coincidence line. My suspicion is that some employees of the NHS routinely sell private information.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

A FREEZE on recruitment has created a nationwide shortage of police officers aged under 26, prompting one police commissioner to express fears about "the need to engage with younger people." Really? I seem to recall when I was a teenager and a young driver, the best sort of engaging came from older, wiser officers. The ones in their early 20s were more like school bullies.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

TWIN brothers in Belgium were born deaf. At the age of 45 they were told they were both going blind. Unable to face the prospect, they asked to be put to death under Belgium's euthanasia laws, even though neither fitted the legal demand of being terminally ill or in pain. It was reported this week that they died of lethal injection on December 14. Has this case shocked Belgians into rethinking the law? Not at all. Under a new amendment, euthanasia will soon be available for children and Alzheimer's sufferers. When British enthusiasts for euthanasia talk blithely about "safeguards," just look across the North Sea and shudder.

Leisure centre stages open weekend

VISITORS can catch a glimpse of what Burntwood Leisure Centre has to offer this weekend.

The centre, in High Street, Chasetown, is hosting an open weekend on Saturday and Sunday (January 26/27) with taster sessions, demonstrations and discounted activities.

The centre's Inspire Fitness suite is offering free tasters at its state-of-the-art gym, as well as organising games and challenges to raise money for Midland Air Ambulance. The sessions can be booked on 01543 308810.

The first 30 people to join up to a monthly membership will receive a goody bag containing a towel, steel water bottle and a bag.

Those using the health suite on a pay-as-you-go basis will get their session in the sauna, steam and spa area for half price over the weekend. A special body combat class is launching on Saturday from 10-11am. It costs £4 for members and £5 for non members, but there are only 35 places available so must be booked.

Swim

Badminton, squash, table tennis or basketball are available for just £2 on a first come, first served basis and two children under 16 can swim for just 50p, when accompanied by a full paying adult. Young people, aged from eight to 16, can swim unaccompanied for £1. Just say 'Splashtastic' at reception.

As well as the free and discounted activities, sports clubs will be on hand to demonstrate their clubs.

Councillor Val Richards, Lichfield District Council's Cabinet Member for Leisure Services, said: "There will be lots of fun activities for the whole family to enjoy."

Permits plan to free up parking spots in street

COUNCILLORS have approved a scheme to introduce parking permits in a Cannock street after residents complained about shoppers taking spaces outside their homes.

Cannock Chase Council plans to implement the permit scheme in Victoria Street in the town centre.

by Laura Blyth

Proposals to introduce a one-off £40 joining fee for residents on top of an annual £50 cost of a permit were debated at a joint parking committee meeting on Tuesday.

Similar schemes in nearby Newhall Street and Queen Street are also planned, provided residents support the initiative.

Shoppers

It comes after fed-up residents claimed shoppers and commuters regularly parked outside their homes.

Vice-chairman of the committee, Councillor John Bernard, said: "Neighbours in Victoria Street complained to the council that they couldn't park outside their own houses.

"They asked us to look at it. It was shoppers and shop workers who were leaving their cars in the street."

Once approved, he said white lines and signs would be put up.

Victoria Street residents said parking was a massive problem. One, Wendy Cassell, aged 72, said: "I pay for a garage nearby because the parking is such a problem here.

"I will get a permit as I do get a lot of visitors. But it isn't fair if we have to pay and other roads around us don't."

Another resident said: "It is a good idea but it depends how many each household can get. We have two cars but I won't be happy if we can only have one."

Officers from Cannock Chase Council and Staffordshire County Council will now finalise the details.

The permits will fund administration and enhanced enforcement, while the joining fee is for set up costs.

Charity shop donations plea

Deputy manager Emma Proctor appeals for more stock at the ExtraCare shop

A CHARITY shop in Cannock town centre has made an appeal for new donations of stock.

The ExtraCare Charitable Trust appealing for donations of clothes and electrical items to help it raise much-needed funds.

Manager Lesley Ellson said: "We are struggling at the moment and hope that people come forward with some stock. The whole of the town centre does seem to be struggling too."

Mrs Ellson said they were looking for clothing for men, women and children, along with footwear and electricals.

The ExtraCare Charitable Trust operates 13 retirement villages and 17 smaller housing developments across the Midlands and the north.

Hammerwich Hall is one of 300 Bupa care homes taking part in the initiative and home manager Shirley Gibbs said: "Storytelling is one of the most traditional forms of enjoyment for people of all ages.

"It allows our residents to liberate their imaginations and be transported to other worlds without even having to leave the comfort of their armchairs.

"We really want as many people as possible to join us in celebrating this wonderful form of entertainment."

National Storytelling Week is now in its 13th year and is supported by the Reader Organisation.

Work aims to protect heathland

CONSERVATION work is taking place throughout the next two months to protect areas of heathland at Gentleshaw Common and Chasewater Country Park.

Lichfield District Council has employed contractors to undertake the important restoration work at the two Sites of Special Scientific Interest.

Scrub will be cut back on large areas of the heath because, otherwise, it can wipe out rare heathland plants such as bilberry and cowberry. A thick growth of trees would also prevent rare birds like snipe and such reptiles as the common lizard from breeding within the heathland.

Approaching

The councilalso hopes to encourage heathland birds like the woodlark and nightjar to return to the district's heaths in the future.

Signage is being put up across both sites to warn visitors that they are approaching a work area.

Councillor Alan White, Lichfield District Council's Cabinet member for development dervices, said: "It is vital that we continue our programme to conserve our heaths."

The works are being funded by Natural England.

Sport pitch is a big hit

A SYNTHETIC football pitch in Cannock is proving a hit with more than 1,000 people a week using it.

The £800,000 facility at Cardinal Griffin RC High School, opened six months ago for football and hockey, and is available to the public and other schools.

The Liam Keeling Arena , named after a Cheslyn Hay teenager who died of meningococcal meningitis in October 2009, is a joint project between the school and Cannock Chase Council with £319,000 Football Foundation funding.

This month it is launching a special programme for teenagers and a spring Sunday night league for adults. Call 07449 305060.

Advice surgery

BURNTWOOD Town Councillors for Boney Hay ward host their monthly surgery at Boney Hay Working Mens Club on Saturday (January 26). Councillors Diane Evans, Russell Heath and Ron Bradbury will be on hand from from 11am to noon.

Hundreds sign petition on marine protection

A PETITION signed by members of Staffordshire Wildlife Trust has been sent to the House of Commons in hopes of changing the government's policy on marine conservation.

More than 300 signatures were received from trust sites throughout Staffordshire – including Wolseley Bridge – as part of the Living Seas campaign. They will join a further 250,000 signatures gathered from across the UK that will be handed to Richard Benyon, Natural Environment Minister, at a Parliamentary reception at the House of Commons.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's volunteer Living Seas champion Ruth Green will be attending the event and hopes to meet MPs to highlight the need to protect Britain's marine environment using conservation zones.

The trust wants 127 sites in the UK to be protected and has called for an official timetable of when they will be created. So far the government has agreed to create 31 areas of marine conservation but the group want to make sure that these areas will be properly policed.

Respond

Joan Edwards, The Wildlife Trust's Head of Living Seas, said: "We'd like to encourage the public to respond to the Government's consultation.

"The public can help us ensure that the 31 sites that the Government have selected are only the start. We need to ensure that the remaining sites are not forgotten."

Simon King OBE, The Wildlife Trusts' President, said: "Whilst disappointed all 127 recommended marine conservation zones are not immediately being designated, we are heartened to hear the Government confirms it has every intention of designating 127 and more if necessary. "

He added "We understand that resources don't allow this to happen in the first year – nonetheless the pressure is on. Time is of the essence.

"With every passing week, month, year, we are at risk of losing more of this precious resource."

Policeman's Unexpected Journey into Hobbit films

by Charlotte Lilley

A POLICEMAN who went to school in Cannock has landed himself a role in a smash-hit film.

Mark Atkin, aged 38, joined the West Midlands force 16 years ago before leaving to work as an officer in New Zealand in 2008. But two years later his life changed forever after he attended an open audition for Peter Jackson's long-awaited Hobbit trilogy, which begins with The Hobbit: An Unexpected Journey.

Police officer Mark Atkin, who is to appear in The Hobbit movie trilogy

Mark said: "My friends would tease me because of my height as I'm only 5ft 4in, so I decided to go to this audition because the director was looking for people who were around 5 ft 2.

"I got turned away at the door. That was the first time I had ever been told I was too tall.

"But luckily the casting director called me back and I was measured and cast as a scale double.

"I quit my job with the police force and started filming in January 2011."

The Wellington ex-pat stars as the body double of dwarf leader Thorin Oakenshield played by actor Richard Armitage.

Filming

The movie also stars Sir Ian McKellen as Gandalf and Martin Freeman as Bilbo Baggins.

Mark will be in each of the three films and headed back to New Zealand earlier this week to continue filming.

Mark added: "You never think this kind of thing is going to happen to you. How often do you get offered to quit your day job and star in a huge film? It's a dream come true.

"My family are amazed. I took my parents to the cinema and rather than watch the film they kept trying to work out when I was on screen."

Churchgoers to display talents

TALENTED chuchgoers are showcasing their skills in Burntwood next weekend.

Deal to be signed on homes near rail station

PLANNERS have given the go-ahead for 34 properties next to Cannock Railway Station – as long developers sign a deal to contribute to community projects.

The Barratt Homes will be built on the corner of Girton Road and Station Court. The land is currently being used as a commercial business on a short-term lease.

There will be 13 two-bedroom houses and 18 with three bedrooms. Three affordable homes will also be built on the 1.85-acre site.

The bid has been approved subject to the housebuilder spend £10,000 on making improvements to the local area.

This is under an agreement called Section 106 where developers contribute funding for social projects.

by Laura Blyth

Signing

Mark Kowalski, planning manager, said he was delighted the "high quality new homes" had been given the go ahead.

He said: "We are pleased that, subject to the signing of the Section 106 agreement, our planning application for 34 new homes on Girton Road in Cannock was given the go-ahead. The project will provide three social housing units, new jobs and financial contribution of £10,000 towards off-site open space improvements.

"We are delighted with the support shown for the scheme from both officers and members of the local council and we are keen to start the development."

Plans have also been submitted for family homes on the site of a former medical centre in Hednesford.

Proposals for the Hednesford Medical Centre site, Eskrett Street, include 10 three-bedroom homes. The centre closed in 2005.

UK Construction Ltd and The Wrekin Housing Trust are behind the scheme.

Ooh la la – stylist has a flair for hair

Owner Sue Lewty and stylist Charlotte Elwell, from Ooh La La Hair and Nail Salon, Stafford Road, Cannock

A MOTHER-of-three is preparing to open her dream salon after refurbishing a building which stood empty for three years.

Ooh La La Hair and Nail Salon on Stafford Road in Cannock is to open next month, after owner Sue Lewty spent more than £10,000 working on the disused building, formerly home to Toppers Hair Salon, three years ago.

Ms Lewty, a 43-year-old PA and bookkeeper, of Stafford Road, spent six months refurbishing the building which she said had simply been 'left to rot'.

She said: "When Toppers moved to another premises, it was just left empty and was rotting away. So I decided to do it up from scratch to make a new French-looking salon."

One hairdresser has been taken on with more in the pipeline.The salon will be opening on February 2, with an open evening on January 31.

Supermarket jobs boost

THREE hundred jobs will be created in Rugeley when Tesco opens its new supermarket there later this year.

Bosses say work on the new store in Power Station Road will begin in the next few weeks in time for a predicted opening of September 30.

The 40,000 sq ft supermarket on the former Celcon factory was given planning permission just over two years ago but there has been a wait while other projects in Stafford and Hednesford were completed.

Proud

The store will include a restaurant, petrol station and free parking for up to three hours.

Jonathan Simpson, corporate affairs manager for Tesco, said: "We're proud to be investing in the area. Our Hednesford store is proving to be very popular.

"We are due to start construction in the coming weeks but I can't give anything further at this stage."

Angi Cooney, of Rugeley Traders Association, said they were pleased so many jobs were being created but there were concerns over how the store would affect business for other shops.

Appalled over the amount of dog mess

RE: 'Residents crying foul on dog mess' (Chronicle, January 17).

I moved here about 18 months ago and have been appalled at the state of the pavements and walkways.

If grass is cut edges are not trimmed or debris cleared. Trees and bushes overhang walkways, in fact I paid privately to have an overhanging brambles cut back to get my car out as it was being scratched each time I backed out. But my main concern is the amount of dog mess.

Most of this is bagged, then the bags are tossed into bushes, trees, even over my garden wall as there are no dog bins to put the bags in.

I have two dogs and it's not pleasant to pick up after your dog and then carry it with you. There are also no litter bins and as I am on the route for students attending Fair Oak, I also spend a lot of time picking up after them.

Parking fees guarantee good news

PRIOR to Christmas a letter was featured from Councillor Diane Todd, concerning the drop in income from the authority's town centre car parks.

I was pleased to read the councillor's absolute guarantee that the district council has no plans whatsoever to further increase the charge to park as part of this year's budgetary process.

This good news will help to reduce the stress levels of many small family business owners and their employees alike. I dare say this welcome news will help to reduce the number of frown lines across the foreheads of hard pressed motorist as well, who thanks to these cast-iron assurances won't now have to worry about having to find even more money just to park.

Everyone knows how difficult things are at the moment, rising utility bills, food prices and below inflation wage increases are making life really hard. At least in Cannock Chase residents and visitors alike won't have to suffer yet another increase in the cost of parking.

It is most refreshing to see that Cannock Chase Council's leader for town centre management has listened to the public and business community on this issue, and has realised just how detrimental any additional increase in the cost to park would have the district's general economy.

Annual reunion for Trieste Association

THE British Element Trieste Force Association was formed nine years ago for those ex servicemen who served in the Free Territory of Trieste between the years 1945 and 1954.

Members have been given the opportunity to contact old colleagues through the quarterly journal and the association website.

Trips to Trieste have been organised annually and many of our members from the various regiments who served there have been able to visit their old barracks.

A reunion is arranged each year. The next one will be held in Southport in March 2013.

If you are interested in knowing more about the association, please get in touch by phone on 01283 790147, by email to crrussellqs@aol.com or write to myself at 5, Walkfield Road, Alrewas, Burton on Trent, Staffs, DE13 7EN.

Postman delivers

I READ an article in your sister paper the Express & Star on not seeing the old fashioned postman on his rounds. We must be lucky in Burntwood as we still have the same postman delivering in the same old way, bag on his back and speaking to anyone he sees young and old.

His name is Ralph and may he continue for years to come.

Hospitals issue too important

COUNCILLOR Kraujalis states (Letters, January 17) that he is "somewhat bewildered by the efforts of our local MP to save Cannock Hospital".

No doubt he would have been equally confused by the petition organised by the Labour leader of his own council last year to 'Save Cannock Hospital', signed by more than 2,000 people.

To remind him, the last Labour Government gave Mid-Staffs Trust Foundation status in 2008 and it has lost money every year since 2009. The present Government is now having to bail them out to the tune of £58m over the next three years.

Meanwhile, Councillor Toth states that "The local MP is ready to take Cannock Hospital out of the NHS".

In fact, I am doing all I can to ensure Cannock Hospital is kept open while continuing to provide services within the NHS. I hope these two councillors realise this matter is too important for political point scoring.

Clothes sales idea that has not shrunk

WHEN I had the idea of selling clothes that Slimming World members had shrunk out of, I never dreamed that collectively, we would have raised more than £2,000 in just over two years.

I would like to thank not only the Slimming World members who donate and buy on a regular basis, but also friends, family and strangers who have donated clothing. A big thank you to St Joseph's Catholic Church in Burntwood for allowing me to store the clothing containers and rails. if anyone can help by donating men's, women's, children's clothing, shoes, handbags etc, then please call me to collect.

Again, thank you to everyone who has made this possible.

Annoyed about the damage to park gate

LIKE Amanda Meakin (Letters, January 17) I feel annoyed and outraged about the damage to the park gates. It is a lovely park. I use it daily and know the park keepers well.

The car park is actually part of Cannock Park and provided for park users only. It is not a free shoppers' car park.

When the park is closed the car park and the main gates are locked half an hour beforehand so any cars still in there have to remain until the gates are opened the next morning.

I am told park keepers record the details of any car locked in and pass on to police if any damage is caused. And I'm not surprised at the repair costs – all because someone abused the car park and took extreme measures to get their car out.

Show cancellation fears after sponsors pull out

A MAJOR transport show that attracts thousands of people is at risk of being cancelled after two sponsors dropped out.

The annual Chasewater Transport Show has become a popular event, attracting more than 6,000 visitors. Last year it almost doubled previous records with 10,000 people attending, raising arond £1,000 in the process for Help For Heroes..

But the sponsorship blow has left organisers short of at least £1,000 and they said they cannot even afford the price of stamps to send out 450 entry forms.

Around 500 classic, vintage and modern vehicles enter the show at the Chasewater Country Park, which costs £6,500 to put on.

The entertainment programme, including stunt teams, funfair, simulator rides and musicians, adds at least £2,000 to the bill.

Stamps

Helen Borton,of Walnut Drive, Cannock, who launched the show five years ago, said: "I'm worried whether this year's show can go ahead. By this point I have normally sent out the entry forms but I haven't got the £180 it will cost for the second-class stamps.

"If someone doesn't come forward soon, I've got a lot of people to disappoint."

Miss Borton said companies were promised a great deal of exposure with banner space, logos on the 5,000 flyers and all printed material, and trade space at the site.

Norton and District Funeral Directors and Need 2 Insure car insurance have remained as sponsors. Anyone willing to sponsor it is asked to call 07769 288708.

Standing proud – Beaudesert Hall, for many years the seat of the Marquis of Anglesey, before its demolition

This picture shows the stunning long gallery, complete with fabulous fittings, at the historic Beaudesert Hall

A rear view of Beaudesert Hall, home to the Pagets

Historic hall's staircase built to accommodate wooden leg

by Ron Bradbury

BETWEEN the Wars, Beaudesert Hall, the seat of the Marquis of Anglesey and home to the Pagets since Henry VIII hit hard times.

A spendrift Marquis, death duties and diminishing income from estates had caused the Pagets to retreat to their Anglesey home, Plas Newydd. The once proud hall started to decay. No buyer came forward and eventually the interior fittings were put under auction. The hall stood empty until a fire made it unsafe and it was mainly demolished leaving just a few walls standing.

An Australian couple on honeymoon were having a mansion built on ground given as a wedding present and they bought a large proportion of the fittings and windows from the hall and had them shipped back to their home town of Adelaide.

The fittings included the famous Waterloo Staircase, which had been specially designed so the newly created Marquis of Anglesey could negotiate the stairs with his wooden leg.

Paget, then the Earl of Uxbridge, was second in command at Waterloo, and had his leg sawn off after it being severely wounded. He his reputed to be the first person to have a wooden leg with a knee joint and was able to dance as well as he had before he lost his limb.

The aerial photo shows the Adelaide mansion, known as Carrick Hill, one of the few period homes in Australia to survive with its original contents almost completely intact and one of only a handful of such places open to the public in the country.

The others show Beaudesert Hall before demolition and the long gallery with some fine fittings.

My local photo book, now out of print and showing some photos of Beaudesert Hall was presented to the Carrick Hill House Trust by my friend John Ashley on a visit.

Young actress looks to build on Casualty role

Rebecca Newman who is a nurse in the BBC's Casualty

Rebecca in her role as student nurse Ally Hunter

AN actress from Rugeley is looking to build on her success after landing a role in one of the country's top drama programmes.

Rebecca Newman, of Longdon, began performing with the Lichfield Garrick Youth Theatre at the age of 16 and went on to secure a role in hit medical programme Casualty.

Rebecca, aged 21 got the acting bug while a pupil at Lichfield's Friary School. After two years with the youth theatre she went to the Royal Welsh College of Music and Drama in Cardiff, only finishing a three-year course last summer.

Lucky

She filmed her scenes for Casualty in September, and although her casting as nervous student nurse Ally Hunter has now come to an end, she is now looking toadd to her growing reputation, having also performed in the production of Peter Pan in Cardiff over Christmas.

She said of her Casualty role: "That was through my agent. I was very lucky to get the part. Filming was great, it was a very new experience for me, I have never done anything like that before."

Rebecca worked alongside Derek Thompson, who plays Charlie, and said: "Quite a lot of scenes were with him, I loved working with him."

Bumper year for the Lions

CANNOCK LIONS

CANNOCK Lions had a bumper 2012 working within the community. It made donations to Cannock's Dog Aid, Hearing Dogs for the Deaf, Staffordshire Women's Aid, Trudy's Trust and the Donna Louise Trust among many other causes.

The club organised, along with Cannock Rotary & the Soroptimists, the Big Diamond Jubilee Event where everything was free, the Lions' Purple Angels cooked bacon baps for the Community Brunch every month and helped local families in crisis.

Hednesford Branch Club was formed, while fundraising included Burns' Night, a race night, the Cannock Christmas light switch on and carnival as well as organising Christmas lunch for the local senior citizens in which Jean Martyn attended.

President Doug Smith said: "I would like to Thank Cannock Lions members for their hard work and everyone for their contributions. Here's to continued success. We are certainly getting well known in Cannock."

Forthcoming events include a Burns' Night Supper and a race night which are on their way to be a sell out.

Pair take over role of new team presidents

SI CANNOCK & DISTRICT

AT the first meeting of 2013, current team president Lakhwinder Thompson passed the chain of office to Eileen Cryer and Carole Holdcroft who will take on the role until the AGM in April.

Carole and Eileen welcomed speakers Caroline Bradford and Jan Mathews, who gave an interesting and informative talk on the local work of Chase Community Voluntary Service.

Members also took along food items which will be donated to Cannock & District Foodbank, showing their continuing support for local people in need.

Carole and Eileen announced plans for the coming four months which include a speaker from Trading Standards, the annual dinner in February to celebrate the club's 58 years in Cannock, when Sharron Burns will be providing entertainment in the form of musical comedy and an event to mark International Women's Day.

Snow causes cancellation

UNFORTUNATELY the January meeting was cancelled because of the snow. While the scenery was very beautiful the pavements and roads were not safe and forecasters were urging people to stay at home.

Days later the weather had improved enough to allow 25 members to attend a delicious carvery at Gordon's restaurant provided by students at the Cannock campus of South Staffordshire College. The next lunch club will be at the Courtyard, High Green, Cannock, on Wednesday, February 20.

A trip is being arranged to the Moorcroft Factory and Museum which will now be in March at a date to be fixed. The aim is to see the Staffordshire Hoard too.

Opticians has eye on Foodbank donations

A CANNOCK opticians will become a permanent drop off point for a new food bank scheme.

The scheme has been set up in the town following a hugely successful festive shoe box appeal.

Chase Eyecare, which has a branch in High Green, Cannock and Market Street, Hednesford, has linked up with organisers of the new Cannock and District Foodbank.

Chase Eyecare urged people to bring in shoe boxes full of non-perishable foods in the run up to Christmas.

The appeal was an overwhelming success with generous people donating 25 shoe boxes full of essential food items such as pasta, chocolate, tins of fruit and soup.

Chase Eyecare practice manager Jackie Murphy with Adam Tilsley from the Cannock and District Foodbank and some of the donated items

Success

The shoe boxes have since been sent to the Foodbank warehouse where they will be distributed to people in need throughout the Cannock Chase district. The Cannock and District foodbank is run by the Trussell Trust in partnership with the Pye Green Christian Centre.

Jackie Murphy, Chase Eyecare's Cannock practice manager, said: "The Christmas shoe box appeal really was a great success. We were delighted by the generosity that people showed.

"The Cannock and District Foodbank scheme has just recently been set up and it really is a fantastic cause.

"We believe so strongly in what is does for local needy people that we have offered to be a permanent drop off point for the town centre.We would urge anyone who would like to support the scheme to please do so by bringing in shoe boxes or bags of food."

Shakeel Puri, clinical director at Chase Eyecare, added: "We are always looking at getting involved and helping the community. We are delighted to now be a permanent food drop off point for the town centre."

The Foodbank scheme will see those in need collect food vouchers from care professionals such as doctors, health visitors, social workers, Citizen Advice Bureau, welfare officers, police and probation officers. The vouchers will then be exchanged for three days' supply of emergency food.

Adam Tilsley, spokesman for the Cannock and District Foodbank, said: "We are really pleased that Chase Eyecare have offered to become a permanent town centre food drop off point. We are very grateful that companies such as Chase Eyecare can support us in this way."

New era signalled as box on move

MEMBERS of Brereton and Ravenhill Heritage Committee are celebrating after a railway signal box was saved from demolition.

The 19th-century box on Wharf Road, Ravenhill, was due to be knocked down in August to make way for a reschedule for the Birmingham to Trent Valley railway line.

It was rescued after Chasewater Light Railway decided to move the box to its site. Talks are now in place with Network Rail to speed up the process. Chairman Tim Jones said: "The committee decided it couldn't let the building be demolished but Network Rail couldn't leave it where it was. The only sensible solution was to find it a new home.

"I have every reason to hope the necessary formalities will be completed without problems."

The box is on the parish's list of 50 buildings of special architectural or historical importance and Councillor Ray Easton said he was very grateful to both Chasewater and Network Rail for their support.

Camra branching out

THE CAMPAIGN for Real Ale is to establish its own presence in Cannock Chase.

The campaign group's main aims are to promote real ale and a Cannock Chase branch will be set up next month.

There are many existing Camra members in the Cannock Chase area, but the main branch has previously been based in Walsall. From February 1, a sub-branch is being established to promote the group more locally, covering Cannock, Hednesford, Heath Hayes, Cheslyn Hay, Great Wyrley and Rugeley with regular meetings held at various pubs across all areas.

A Camra spokesman said its emphasis was not only on naturally produced and flavoursome beers, but also on promoting local brands which offered a greater choice of styles and flavours.

Closures

"Another principal aim is to protect local pubs and campaign against their closures, at present pubs nationally are closing at the rate of between 20 to 30 a week," the spokesman said.

He said local beer festivals and social events would be arranged through the group, and added that with a local presence any threatened pub closures could be fought in the early stages rather than waiting until they actually shut.

For current members and anyone interested in joining Camra, the inaugural sub-branch meeting will be held at the Cross Keys, Hill Street, Hednesford on Sunday February 3 from noon.

For more details, contact a local Camra representative on 01543 467616.

Lions brave elements for food collection

MORE than 40 people braved the elements to help out the needy. Teams went out in the snow around Burntwood and Hammerwich for the Lions Club's annual collection of tins and other food items from homes.

Items were brought in by Burntwood Lions, Friends of Burntwood Lions, Burntwood Lions Community Volunteers and Hammerwich Scouts.

Lions fundraising chairman John Wallage said the donations would be made up into parcels ready for distribution to local elderly and needy people.

He said: "We apologise to residents of St Matthews Estate, Church Road, Ashmead Road area and the Ridgeway from whom we were unable to collect."

Collections from these areas will be made on Sunday between 10am and 1pm. Any other areas where collections have been missed should e-mail john.wallage239@btinternet.com or call 01543 671949.

Forest concerts are just the ticket for music fans

Recreation manager Andy Coggins promotes the Cannock Chase concerts taking place at Birches Valley

THOUSANDS of tickets have been snapped up to see both Blondie and Paloma Faith perform at Cannock Chase, Forestry Commission bosses have revealed.

The two-day Forest Live festival will take place on June 28 and 29, with more than 6,000 tickets sold so far.

Around 4,000 tickets have been snapped up for the Blondie gig and 2,000 for Paloma, half of which were sold in their first weekend of sale.

Recreation manager at Birches Valley on the Chase, Andy Coggins said: "It's really exciting to see sales going so incredibly well and so important for the forests too, as the money goes back into their upkeep.

Economy

"It's two days of concerts, but it funds the forests all year round, as well as greatly supporting the local economy. It's really great news for all the forests and it's getting us all thinking about next summer already."

Paloma will headline Friday, June 28 and Blondie the following night.

Forest Live sees big names play in beauty spots around the UK, with revenue from ticket sales ploughed into improving the woodland.

Paul Weller, Plan B and Will Young have already played the Chase in previous years, as well as Jools Holland, Simple Minds and the Sugababes.

Gym looking well

A CANNOCK gym has relaunched following a £190,000 facelift. Guests were offered health and lifestyle advice at the relaunch of the Nuffield Health Fitness & Wellbeing Centre, in East Cannock Road.

They could also learn about HealthScore, a new online fitness and lifestyle tool, while 15-minute sessions with a physiotherapist and nutritionist and advice from qualified health mentors were also on offer.

Wellbeing advisers completed blood pressure and BMI testing and there were personal training taster sessions and classes on Vipr, CX Works and TRX

The new-look centre benefits from a newly refurbished front of house desk and service area, a full cafe refurbishment and spacious new towel collection and drop points.

General manager Michelle McCollam said: "My team and I are really proud of the refurbishments."

Battalion's soldiers are spared axe in Army cuts

TROOPS from the Black Country and Staffordshire's 'home' battalion have been spared from the latest round of Army cuts.

Up to 5,300 soldiers are to be made redundant in the summer as part of plans to reduce the strength of the regular Army to 82,000 by 2020.

by John Scott

Redundancy notices will be issued on June 18 but the Government said any personnel preparing for, serving on, or recovering from operations on that date will not lose their jobs unless they have applied for redundancy.

Withdrawn

The 3rd Battalion The Mercian Regiment (the Staffords) are currently training for deployment to the front line in Afghanistan before British troops are withdrawn from that conflict in 2014 so only those who volunteer for redundancy would be considered.

3Mercian is set to be lost during the reorganisation and its troops will be merged with the 1st and 2nd Battalions of The Mercian Regiment.

But Army chiefs have vowed that soldiers serving with units that will cease to exist as a result of the cuts will not be specifically targeted for redundancy.

This summer's redundancies are the third and largest wave to hit services. The first tranche in September 2011 saw 2,860 forces personnel made redundant, the second in June 2012 involved 3,760.

Defence Minister Mark Francois confirmed: "No-one who is serving on specified operations on the day the redundancy notices are issued on June 18 2013 will be made redundant unless they are applicants.

"Similarly, those preparing for, or recovering from such operations on the day the redundancy notices are issued will not be made redundant unless they have applied."

Fitness suite work starts in £700,000 leisure centre plan

MORE THAN £700,000 will be invested in Rugeley Leisure Centre as work starts on a new state-of-the-art health and fitness suite.

Under the plans the current gym at the Burnthill Lane centre will be extended creating a bigger floor space and 70 pieces of gym equipment including weights and power plates, will be installed alongside iPod docking stations and integrated TV screens.

by Charlotte Lilley

The development is the third phase of a £2 million programme by Wigan Leisure and Culture Trust (WLCT) who were awarded a 10-year contract to manage leisure and cultural services on behalf of Cannock Chase District Council last year.

Committed

It follows a £400,000 investment in a new Profiles Health and Fitness Suite at Chase Leisure Centre which opened in February 2012 and a £1,000 investment in a new 3G turf pitch at Rugeley Leisure Centre last summer.

Culture and sport leader, Councillor Christine Mitchell said: "Cannock Chase Council is committed to delivering the best sport and leisure facilities for people in Cannock Chase and our partnership with charitable trust WLCT, will deliver £2m of improvements for the District's leisure and culture facilities over the next 10 years.

"The Profiles Health and Fitness Suite at Chase Leisure Centre in Cannock has been hugely popular and we're delighted that work has now started to provide similar state-of-the-art facilities for the residents of Rugeley."

The build and refurbishment is scheduled to be completed by the start of June. In order to minimize disruption, the current gym facilities will move into part of the sports hall from mid March.

Stuart Murray, chief executive for WLCT, said: "Our aim as an organisation is to encourage everyone to be active, creative and healthy. By investing in new and improved facilities we hope to do just that."

For more information about the work or to become a member telephone 01889 586 260 or visit the centre for a free tour and information pack.

Approval is granted for town's new fire station

PLANNING permission has been granted for a new £3million community fire station in Rugeley.

The project is the final part of a £50m Private Finance Initiative (PFI) to create 11 new stations across the county.

The new station will be built on the existing Rugeley site in Bryans Lane and will include a training area for firefighters, a community room, gym and a memorial garden.

Delighted

Contractor Blue3, will be responsible for the design, construction and ongoing maintenance with work set to begin in June.

PFI project manager Norma Putman, said: "We are delighted that the last planning approval has been awarded and look forward to giving residents of Rugeley a community fire station they can be proud of."

Place bets in aid of charity

A FAMILY race night takes place in Rugeley tomorrow night (Friday) in aid of the Chase Community Fund.

It will be held at Lea Hall Restaurant, Sandy Lane at 7.30pm. Entry is free and there will be a raffle and quiz with a cash prize. Call 01543 684805 or email tuk tawa@hotmail.com

Musicians showcase their skills in concert

LEVEL three music students from Rugeley Sixth Form Academy have organised a concert in Stafford to showcase their talents.

Eight pupils will host the event at The Grapes Music Bar on Bridge Street on Thursday, February 21.

Rock and indie bands and a dub-step soloist will take to the stage from 8.45pm. Tickets cost £2 and are available on the door.

Excited

Student Cara Rees said: "We're all feeling very positive and excited to put on an event of this kind of level.

"We held a similar event in November at our school so this time we are looking forward to expanding our skills and having this experience.

"I have heard all the acts and they are all of high quality and amazing talent. I hope a lot of people will come to see them perform."

Top score for club hygiene

RUGELEY Progressive Wor-king Men's Club has had a glowing report from food hygiene inspectors.

The Market Street club achieved top marks in a Cannock Chase Council inspection. The report found the premises and equipment "clean and in good condition."

A chance to clean up at soap-making workshop

RESIDENTS in Rugeley can celebrate Ash Wednesday by taking part in a soap making workshop. It is being run by the Church of the Holy Spirit in Mount Road, Etching Hill, from 10am to 4pm on February 13.

Participants are asked to donate £2 to the church to cover the cost of materials. They will be making cold process goat's milk soap, using the palm ash associated with Ash Wednesday as the exfoliating ingredient. Soaps can be scented with herbs but take six weeks to cure so can be collected at the church's 7pm Maundy Thursday Eucharist on March 28 or the 11am hot cross bun service the following day. To book, contact Rev Lynsay Downes on 07964 630808.

TV antiques expert will be a history group guest

AUCTIONEER Charles Hanson will address members of Cheslyn Hay & District Local History Society later this year.

Well-known for appearances on BBC's Bargain Hunt and Flog It, Mr Hanson has been confirmed as one of the group's guest speakers for its 2013 programme.

Charles Hanson

He will give a 45-minute talk on Thursday, May 30, from 2pm, followed by a 45-minute valuation session of any item of interest.

Mr Hanson is a member of the Royal Institution of Chartered Fine Art Surveyors and previously worked for Christies in London. He established Hansons Auctioneers in Derbyshire in 2005.

He is the youngest bargain Hunt expert and has also appeared on Antique Road Trip, having just filmed a celebrity version featuring Sir Terry Wogan. Mr Hanson has also recently filmed an American antiques show called "What the Sell"! In Chicago.

Tickets

Mr Hanson frequently conducts charity auctions and the year before last sold, on behalf of ex-England cricketer, Darren Gough, his winning Strictly Come Dancing outfit for £3,000.

Tickets for his visit to the Salem, in High Street, Cheslyn Hay are £2.50. Valuations will be charged at £1 per item. Call Trevor McFarlane on 01922 414772.

Photographer Ron Darby will be addressing the group's next meeting on Thursday, January 31. He will present a slide show to music on Scenes of the Chase.

It starts at 7.30pm at the Salem, High Street. Admission is £1 including refreshments.

Deaths and injuries on the road fall

THE number of people killed or seriously hurt on Staffordshire's roads has fallen by almost a third in the last four years, new figures show.

The statistics from the Department of Transport show deaths and serious injuries in the county are the lowest ever recorded. The numbers dropped from 183 in 2008 to 126 last year, a fall of 31 per cent.

County Councillor Mike Maryon, leader for highways and transport, said the fall was in part due to measures introduced to improve road safety, such as 20mph speed indicator devices being rolled out outside schools.

"The latest figures are very encouraging and we intend to build on this success," he said.

Chief Inspector Steve Smytheman, head of roads policing for Staffordshire Police, said: "The safety of our roads is a key priority.

"We are determined to continue working towards reducing the number of casualties even further."

Alpha course to get under way

A NEW Alpha course run by a Rugeley church is to get under way. They take place on Thursday nights, starting on March 7, from 7.30 to 9.15pm in the church room at St Michael's in Brereton.

For more details, call Brian or Jan on 01543 491782.

Churches to serve up lunches for Lent

LENT lunches are being served throughout Rugeley during the fasting period.

At St Augustine's, in Station Road, they will be served on Ash Wednesday, February 13 at 12.30pm in the church hall and then on February 19 and 26, March 5, 12 and 19 at venues to be announced.

At St Michael's Brereton, lunches start on February 14 and will be held weekly from noon to 2pm in the church room. Wednesday, February 27 from noon is the date for Lent lunch at St John's, Slitting Mill.

Moat Hall pupils urged to 'Reach for the Stars'

MOAT Hall Primary School is situated in the village of Great Wyrley and with excellent transport links from surrounding areas we often enrol children who are out of our catchment area.

We provide an exciting curriculum and encourage our children to "Reach for the Stars" in all that they do.

We are continually striving to raise standards in our school and raise pupils' achievements to give them the best possible start to their education.

Our Open Evening will offer the opportunity for potential families to visit us on Tuesday, February 12 between 5.30 pm and 7pm. There is no need to book.

Some of our older children will be available to show you round and there will be musical performances for you to enjoy too.

If you are looking for a nursery or reception place please come along and see what we have to offer your child.

Discuss

We are supported by Children's Choice, which offers a before and after school club and holiday activities.

It also offers a wraparound care service for children from the age of two.

If you have any concerns about your child leaving playgroup or not being ready to attend a nursery setting, please come and discuss your worries with us to help you make an informed decision.

Here is a testimonial from the parent of a nursery child who began with us aged three years and three months who had concerns that her child was too young to leave playgroup:

"Overall, I am over the moon with how she has settled, and I know that she loves her time in class and always looks forward to the next session, I feel her confidence is growing and the majority of her 'fears' that used to be a problem have now almost disappeared."

Moat Hall Nursery pupils enjoy some outdoor activities

Personal tours are available at any time, so if you are unable to visit on this day please give us a call at the school on 01922 857005 and we will arrange an appointment for you.

We look forward to meeting you and your child in the near future.

Happy Tots provides safe place to learn and play

HAPPY Tots gives children a loving and safe place to learn and play whilst mummy and daddy can't be with them.

The nursery in Orbital Plaza, Bridgtown, (by the Ramada Hotel) provides a friendly and welcoming environment filled with love, care and cuddles, and all the toys and activities little ones need to learn through play.

Whilst the children love the homely atmosphere, loving staff and fun activities, parents love how our qualified nursery nurses look after their children.

Our value-for-money, all-inclusive prices make it easy to budget, with no hidden extra costs.

All food and drinks are included, and only fresh home-cooked food is served, including lots of fruit and vegetables.

The nursery is Ofsted registered, with spacious rooms and fingerprint entrance for child comfort, safety and security.

Open from 7.30am to 6.30pm weekdays, with flexible childcare sessions that suit working parents, the nursery is conveniently situated just off the A5 in Cannock, two minutes from Cannock centre and near Junction T7 of the M6 toll, and has dedicated parking spaces right outside.

Secure

Happy Tots takes children from six weeks old. Our dedicated professional team creates a nurturing atmosphere for children to learn to socialise and develop their creativity, individuality and self-confidence both inside and outside in the safe, secure outdoor play area.

Happy Tots is the most recommended nursery on www.thebestofCannock.co.uk where you can read more parental reviews like this one:

"As busy parents, it is a weight off our mind to know that our daughter is safe while we are at work.

The time she spends at nursery has proven constructive and she has come on leaps and bounds. I would recommend any parent to Happy Tots, friendly and positive staff are a must for growing children.

Happy Tots is exactly what it says – it is a home from home for our daughter, they have become like her second family."

Come and visit to see for yourself why Happy Tots is 'as close as children can get to being at home'. Call 01543 509089 or visit www.happy-tots.com.

We hope to see you and your little one soon . . .

New academy gives young the chance to build future

The Lata Construction Academy aims to give young people the tools to do the job

THE LATA Construction Academy opens this month in Cannock and will be offering young people the opportunity to enter the construction sector.

The academy will be delivering the Maintenance Operations Apprenticeship Framework which will train young people in various trades to give them broad skills which will allow them to work with housing associations and local authorities to refurbish properties and prepare them to re-let.

LATA is looking for young people (initially 16 to 18 year olds) who have the desire to work in the construction sector.

The delivery will teach young people skills in carpentry, bricklaying, plastering, plumbing and tiling.

The training will commence in the LATA centre in Cannock for the initial stages of the course while the candidates develop their skills in the different trades.

Helped

When they have achieved the skills levels required they will then work as a team redeveloping empty properties and bringing them back up to standard ready to re let.

Gary Hawkins, CEO of LATA, said "We have been extremely successful with our Logistics Academy which takes young people who generally are Not in Education Employment or Training (NEET) and gives them the skills to enter the logistics and retail sectors.

"We have helped to get over 500 young people into sustainable employment through this initiative and we are now looking at innovative ways that we can help young people to enter the construction sector.

"The training that we deliver covers both practical and theoretical skills so that the young people will develop the skills and confidence to be able to work on real properties that will ultimately be rented out."

Bricklaying is one of the skills that is taught at the Lata Construction Academy

The initial apprenticeship programme will give general skills and it is anticipated that some of the apprentices will go on to specialise in one of the trades that they have learned.

Start

The ultimate goal of the construction academy is to encourage young people to want to work in the construction sector and will give them skills that will allow them to gain employment either with small builders or property maintenance companies right through to housing associations and local authorities.

It is expected that some of the young people will become self employed and may even start the building firms of the future.

If you are interested in an opportunity to enter the construction or logistics sectors, please contact Matthew Price at LATA on 01543 469424 or drop by the centre for a chat and further information.

Hednesford

Hednesford's multi-million pound regeneration scheme is taking shape with Tesco supermarket at its heart. Costa Coffee, Lloyds Phramacy and Phones 4u have already opened stores at the Victoria Shopping Park, with charity shop Barnardo's and Boyd's hairdressers also announcing they have signed up to the regeneration scheme.

A Pets Corner store and Aldi supermarket are also planned with the work being carried out by St Modwen.

The 20-acre scheme stretches across two new developments – Victoria Shopping Park and Chase Gateway. Alongside retail space a range of leisure facilities including a purpose-built Hednesford Bingo building and a new 10,000sqft community centre.

Hednesford has already seen the opening of the Lightworks centre, while a motel, cafe, laundrette and other outlets have opened next to Woody's bar.

Another development in Hednesford includes pub giant JD Wetherspoon being in talks to take over the historic Anglesey Lodge and turn the building into a pub. Improvements are also planned at Hednesford Park after a lottery grant was secured.

Away from the retail regeneration, phase 2 of a mining memorial, commemorating those that worked down the mines, was unveiled last year. The town is also home to Hednesford Hills and the Museum of Cannock Chase, with sporting facilities including Hednesford Town FC and Hednesford Raceway.

The truth is out there as author seeks weird tales

AN AUTHOR from Cannock is asking people to come forward with weird and wonderful tales for a new book.

Lee Truth is writing a book on strange happenings reported in Cannock Chase over the years.

Mr Truth is the editor and writer for The Conspiracy Review website, where books by alternative authors are reviewed.

He said he was hoping for many people to come forward with their stories.

"I am currently writing a book about all the strange happenings reported on Cannock Chase over the years," he said.

"I am appealing to any local people who may have seen or heard anything strange on Cannock Chase to get in touch with me and share their stories."

Strange

People can get in touch by emailing at credomutwa@hushmail.com or through the www.theconspiracyreview.com website.

Last year it was revealed how a suspected UFO signing over the Staffordshire beauty spot 24 years ago was discussed at Government level.

The documents released in July, show that lights in the sky were spotted above Cannock Chase on May 16, 1988, by "perfectly sane" witnesses. The alleged incident was raised with defence chiefs.

At the beginning of last year, friends Jason Kirkham of Burntwood, and Greg Jenkins, 23 of Heath Hayes believed they saw a UFO above Castle Ring.

Group's beauty of a show

Starring in Sleeping Beauty are Cannock Chase Drama Society's Vicky Evans as Princess Aurora and Louise Hewitt as Prince Michael

A DRAMA group is taking the stage for its annual pantomime this week.

Cannock Chase Drama Society is putting on its production of Sleeping Beauty until Saturday (January 26) at the Prince of Wales Centre, in Church Street, Cannock. The curtain went up on show last night (Wednesday). Showtimes are at 7.30pm with a Saturday matinee at 2.30pm.

Tickets are £9 and £8 concessions. Call Lisa Blakeley on 07968 757820 or the box office on 01543 578762.

Shelters to be replaced

BUS shelters are to be replaced in Brereton and Ravenhill. The parish council wants to replace shelters in Setterfield Way and Coulthwaite Way. Councillor Paul Fisher said: "This year we are aiming to replace some of the bus shelters. We've got enough money to replace two of them."

Great War training camps are unearthed

by Kirsten Rawlins

The Great War training camps under construction on The Chase

Trenches dug on Cannock Chase to mimic the Belgian battlefield

TRAINING camps for more than 500,000 soldiers in the First World War on Cannock Chase are set to be unveiled this summer.

The scale model of Belgian battlefield the Messines Ridge was used by the British Army to train soldiers from the UK and abroad for fighting on the Western Front.

The model, based on aerial photography, covered the size of a tennis court.

The camps on the Chase were dismantled when the guns fell silent, but the remains are some of the most complete Great War archaeological sites in this country.

Survival

The project, due to start in August, aims to reveal more about Staffordshire's involvement in the First World War, and act as a reminder of the sacrifice made by thousands of troops in Flanders and northern France.

Part of the scheme will focus on the removal of scrub and bramble from a surviving area of barrack blocks close to the White House car park.

This will be followed by interpretation of this part of the camp as part of the Great War commemorations.

The major part of the project however, involves the careful excavation, recording and reburial of the Messines model which was designed by Commonwealth engineers but was probably built by German Prisoners of War in late 1917.

Staffordshire County Councillor, Pat Corfield, Cabinet Member for Culture and Communities said: "As we approach the centenary of the start of the First World War in 2014, it is essential we continue to teach future generations about the legacy of the conflict.

"We must never forget the great sacrifices made and this exciting excavation project will help achieve that and showcase Staffordshire's role in the Great War."

The interpretation of the Messines model and training camps will be based at the Marquis Drive Visitor Centre.

It is hoped from there, visitors will be able to experience an actual or digital model of the Messines trench system, and understand how they were used to prepare the troops for battle.

Wolf's at the door for Formidable rockers

The Joy Formidable – Wolves gig

Music

Wolf's Law

THIS could be the year that Welsh-Wolverhampton rockers The Joy Formidable finally graduate from 'the next big thing' to premier league rock star status. But I am not sure if Wolf's Law, their second proper album, is the one to do it.

The guitar blizzard is indeed, well, formidable but this album could have been made 20 years ago with its shoegazer tendencies, livened up with a bit of Britpop (Welsh pop?) attitude.

Ritzy Bryan remains a powerful front woman, ably supported by the rhythm section of bassist Rhydian Dafydd (bass) and Wulfrunian Matt Thomas (drums).

Anyone who saw them supporting Muse last year can vouch for their live punch, and they should be a knockout at the Wulfrun Hall on March 1. LB

Moonshine and mayhem with hillbilly gangsters

DVD/Blu-Ray

Lawless (18)

BASED on a true story, probably rather loosely, this tale of backwoods bootlegger brothers in prohibition-era America is a stylish and very violent gangster thriller.

It comes from the Australian team of director John Hillcoat (The Road) and writer (and rock star) Nick Cave.

Set in early 1930s Virginia, it tells of good ol' boys the Bondurant brothers, played by Tom Hardy, Jason Clarke and Shia Labeouf. They run their rural bar despite a ban on booze and make a lucrative income distilling illegal hooch, bribing the local lawmen with a few crates of the hard stuff.

However, a corrupt district attorney brings in a Chicago cop to crack down on the Bondurant boys when they stubbornly refuse to pay his bribes.

Enter the real star of the movie, Guy Pearce, as preening, perfumed and poison-tongued sadist Special Deputy Charlie Rakes. He delivers a vicious beating to the youngest Bondurant – an impulsive youth as played by Labeouf – setting in motion a feud.

Pearce's oily-haired dandy is a memorable villain, necessary to make viewers care about bland hicks the "invincible" Bondurants, though Tom Hardy does have John Wayne-like presence as the older brother.

Shia Labeouf as Jack Bondurant takes on the law in Lawless

Like most gangster movies, the female roles are under-written, not giving Mia Wasikowska or Jessica Chastain, as girlfriends, much to do. Great soundtrack though.

Code Name: Geronimo (15)

THIS is an efficient if unremarkable docu-drama on the US Navy Seals operation to track down and eliminate Osama Bin Laden in Pakistan.

The shaky camera action is well done but the tacked on story about rivalry between two soldiers is unnecessary and distracting. More interesting is the vital surveillance work of the bickering Pakistani agents, who were apparently left behind to face the wrath of the authorities. Leon Burakowski

GARDENING

Be patience and earn bedding plant reward

FEBRUARY is often the coldest month of the year, but despite this, it's the time when real gardeners start to grow in earnest.

The wise old birds that sow seed in mid winter are able to grow plants that will be ready for planting out at just the right time.

Some bedding plants are relatively slow growers and need several months to transform from seeds to plants ready to flower.

Tender geraniums, begonias and lobelia are examples that ideally need to be sown now so that they receive 18 to 20 weeks of growth and are ready for planting out when frosts are finished around the end of May.

It doesn't matter what the weather is like, as long as you have a warm spot for germination and a bright windowsill on which the seedlings can grow.

You just need patience for this early bird gardening that will save you plenty of money compared with buying garden-ready plants in May.

Waste

Simply take a clean plastic seed tray and fill it with fresh Miracle-Gro Seed & Cutting Compost.

Use a flat piece of wood to level the surface and then place the tray in a shallow bowl of water to gradually moisten the compost from the bottom.

As with all composts it pays to buy fresh every season as the nutrients available to the roots diminishes gradually after the bag is opened.

Saving pennies by using up old compost is rarely the way to ensure good strong growth.

Instead it can spell disaster and a total waste of your investment in packets of seed. Follow the pack instruction on your flower seed packet as to whether you should cover the seed with more compost and the temperature required for germination.

Bedding begonias need light while geraniums require darkness. To keep the compost evenly moist while germination occurs, I find it useful to cover the tray with a plastic dome or slip the whole seed tray inside a white or clear plastic bag.

Geraniums, begonia and lobelia germinate best in warm conditions of 24C (75F).

Unfortunately they require this temperature consistently for fastest germination, which is where a thermostatically controlled propagator comes in really handy.

● Words and photographs supplied by John Clowes, of The Scotts Miracle-Gro Company

Geranium such as the Vista Red pictured here, require darkness to germinate and do best in warm conditions of 24C

Topical tips

LIFESTYLE

Savvy shopping tips to help survive the sales

Remember, clothes are in the sale for a reason

Make sure you try clothes on

WHEN the sales banners go up and the red price tags appear, it's easy to get carried away.

However, here's your guide to a successful day at the bargain counter.

BEFORE YOU SHOP

● Keep a list of items you like or need, but you can't afford at full price. Then you'll know exactly where to look when the sales start.

● If there's a particular shop you'd like to visit, find out in advance when its sale starts. Some retailers hold early bird openings or sneak previews for loyalty card holders.

If you sign up for a store card, however, make sure you read its terms and conditions.

● Do your homework by reading consumer reviews for any homewares or electronic items. Also, look out for future trends. If you know what kind of colours are likely to be big next year, you can look out for items in these colours on the sale rails.

● Find out if any of the items you're after will be available online.

Some shops will have more of a selection online than in-store and, if they offer free delivery, you'll save on transport and parking costs.

● If you are heading out to the shops, draft a battle-plan for the day.

Work out where to park or get off the bus, which order to visit the shops, and when and where to stop for a refreshment break and sit-down.

ITEMS TO LOOK OUT FOR IN THE JANUARY SALES

● Trendy items are on the sale rail for a reason, so look instead for everyday basics; wardrobe essentials such as jeans, blazers and shirts.

● Look out for toiletry gift sets. Once you've liberated them from their festive packaging these items might come in handy this year.

● January sales are great for picking up cut-price bed linen, towels or duvets. Stick to bright whites which never go out of fashion.

● Don't just pile into the town centre, but stop by the garden centre or the home improvements superstore.

● Stock up on next year's Christmas cards, wrapping paper and ribbons at knock-down prices. Simple red or gold gift bags or paper can even be used throughout the year for birthday presents or Valentine's Day.

● Check out the food hall of big department stores for fancy food or booze with a shelf-life. A Christmas cake can be frozen and re-iced for Easter.

● Stocking filler DVD films and box sets will be cut-price come January, so buy some for emergency birthday presents

● Buy clothes and shoes your kids can grow into. Children's clothing is more timeless and practical

BACK AT HOME

You may want to collapse on the sofa and put your feet up, but being organised at this stage is also crucial.

Most pressing is to try on any sale clothes you've bought.

You may decide you don't like them now you're away from the shop buzz, or that it doesn't match your existing garments as well as you thought.

● Be honest with yourself. If there's anything you're not going to use or wear, take it back while you still know where the receipt is.

Rock the bank bar

LOCAL band The Rock Dogs are playing live in the vault at the bank bar and lounge in Wolverhampton Road, Cannock, tomorrow night (Friday). Entry is free and the gig starts at 9pm.

Rhydian on the Rocky road back for 40th anniversary

THE REGION'S theatres are back with a bang after panto season thanks to an acclaimed new version of a vintage Ealing comedy, the return of a raunchy rock musical favourite and a classic bodice-ripper.

Wolverhampton Grand stages The Ladykillers, a stage version of the 1950s British black comedy about an old lady pitted against a criminal gang, which has been revamped by Father Ted co-writer Graham Linehan.

It's on at the Lichfield Street theatre from Monday to Saturday and has a top-notch cast, including Michelle Dotrice (who was Betty in TV's Some Mothers Do 'Ave 'Em), Clive Mantle and Cliff Parisi.

Bronte

Fresh from playing the lead role in Jesus Christ Superstar, Ben Forster becomes Brad opposite Emmerdale's Roxanne Pallett as Janet, being seduced by Oliver Thornton's Frank 'n' Furter in the naughty Rocky Horror Show.

It's at Birmingham New Alexandra Theatre from Monday to Saturday.

They are likely to be upstaged by The X Factor's Welsh singing sensation Rhydian, who Time Warps back to the city where he was a student, wearing not much more than a posing pouch as Rocky in this 40th anniversary tour.

Hull Truck stage a version of Charlotte Bronte's gothic romance Jane Eyre at the Arena Theatre in Wolverhampton for three performances during Tuesday and Wednesday.

Everything is hunky dory for Rhydian, returning to Birmingham to camp it up in the Rocky Horror Show

Nice to see the Strictly dancers

Strictly Come Dancing, NIA, Birmingham

NICE to see them – and it certainly was. As the sixth Strictly Come Dancing tour opened to a packed Birmingham NIA the atmosphere was electric.

Those famous Brucie words echoed around the packed arena and although he wasn't there in person, his voice could be heard booming out from the two large screens by the stage.

The thousands who made the precarious journey through wintry conditions to see the show were richly rewarded.

Opening to the sounds of Gold from the Strictly singers – that's what the show was. Hosted again by bubbly Kate Thornton the tour boasted everything, stunning costumes, outspoken judges and dazzling dance routines.

The Magnificent Seven, as head judge Len Goodman refered to them, included reigning champion Louis Smith, Denise Van Outen, Phil Tufnell, Dani Harmer, Fern Britton, Lisa Riley, and Michael Vaughan.

Joining Len on the judging panel was the formidable Craig Revel Horwood and the excitable Bruno Tonioli but the final vote was down to the audience.

Louis picked up another win despite Denise scoring a perfect 60 from the judges. At the bottom were Tufnell and Vaughan.

A mixed line-up of talent but a terrific show. Brucie would have been proud.

Pick of the Week

There's no cheesy role for returning Martine

Well, we've witnessed some extraordinary demises in Midsomer Murders, but here's one that really takes the biscuit – death by cheese.

Yes, you really did read that correctly. And what's more, the character involved is played by former soap princess Martine McCutcheon. TV really can be a bizarre concoction at times...

McCutcheon is actually rather good as Debbie Moffett, who is crushed to death by a giant round of cheese at the award-winning dairy where she worked, just hours after an argument at a parents' council meeting at Midsomer Pastures Prep School.

It's been a while since we saw McCutcheon acting, and it seems she enjoyed being back on the box.

"I'm a troublemaker in the episode which is set around a posh prep school. My character is well-to-do and feisty, she's not Tiffany from Albert Square. It's great to do something I wouldn't normally do, as she's not a nice piece of work."

Certainly after Debbie's body is discovered, her colleagues seem more concerned about the state of the cheese than the woman herself – which probably tells you everything you need to know about her standing in the community.

Barnaby and Jones are also suspicious about the fact that nobody had a bad word to say about her – surely somebody somewhere must have had a crossed word with her at some point.

Eventually, the truth comes out. Debbie's daughter was about to be expelled from school; she was there on a scholarship which comes with strict rules not only for the pupil, but their parents too – and Debbie had broken one by having an affair with her boss, ex-rugby international Gregory Brantner.

Later, another body is found, this time with its mouth full of maggots. What can this mean?

Barnaby believes the answer lies in the dairy – every scrap of evidence the police finds seemed to be linked to it. But piecing it all together is where the hard work really starts...

McCutcheon has been performing professionally since the age of 12 when she landed a role in an advert. Modelling assignments, bit parts in TV series and appearances in music videos followed. She then had a stint in girl band Milan before EastEnders' bosses came calling.

She spent four years in Albert Square as Tiffany, with her final episode gaining 22 million viewers.

Since then, her career has been hit-and-miss, with a stint as a pop star and successful roles on stage in My Fair Lady and on the big screen in Love Actually proving to be the highlights.

But maybe happiness in McCutcheon's private life is about to signal a return to stardom – she recently tied the knot with singer-songwriter Jack McManus.

She says: "We are best friends as well as lovers and totally supportive of one another. We feel that we can conquer anything the world throws at us as long as we have each other, and that's a rare thing."

Perhaps this could be her perfect moment at last.

Martine McCutcheon stars in Midsomer Murders, Wednesday, ITV, 8pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY

Lewis
ITV, 9pm
In this concluding episode of a two-part story, Lewis realises that pallbearer Liam Jay was beaten up and left for dead because he knows something about Whitby's death. The killer then turns their attention to Liam's girlfriend, and only some quick-thinking by the veteran detective saves her from death when the narrowboat on which she lives is set alight. Hathaway's jaunt to Kosovo soon comes in handy too – Lewis finds out that the Faulkners have a farmhouse in Croatia that may hold vital clues, so he sends his pal to take a look around.

Rory and Will – Champions of the World
Channel 5, 9pm
Rory McGrath and Will Mellor – an odd coupling you may think, but they actually work well here. The duo's remit is to become the best in the world at a selection of bizarre events. They begin by journeying to King's Lynn, home of Alan Cooper, the supreme Reliant Robin racer. The famed three-wheelers are driven to near destruction in each race, as Will soon finds out; Rory, meanwhile, adopts some cunning tactics that might just ensure an unlikely win. After that, they try some more sedate pastimes, including coin-tossing, thumb-wrestling and pea-shooting.

TUESDAY

Emmerdale
ITV, 7pm
As a one-time teen mum, Debbie should know the signs that a young girl is about to get out of her depth. So, when she spots 14-year-old Belle putting make-up on at the bus stop, and then heading back to the empty Dingle homestead arm-in-arm with Luke, she decides to tell Lisa what's going on. The concerned mother rushes home to find the teens canoodling on the sofa and forcibly separates them before warning Luke never to come back.

Dallas
Channel 5, 9pm
Like one of Ewing Oil's lucrative drilling sites, there's a rich seam of nostalgia to be gleaned from this slick revamp, but the loss of Larry Hagman last year was bound to leave fans moist of eye during his final performances. (Fans may note that a full episode later in the season will be devoted to JR's death). This week, Christopher attempts to gain the upper hand in his divorce from Rebecca Sutter (Julie Gonzalo). However, a bombshell soon scuppers his plans, so most of the family puts their differences aside and joins forces. Elsewhere, Ann (Brenda Strong) and Bobby face an alarming secret from her past when Harris Ryland (Mitch Pileggi) blackmails her.

WEDNESDAY

Derek
Channel 4, 10pm
Last April, Ricky Gervais played Derek Noakes, a seemingly autistic 49-year-old care worker who worked at Broadhill retirement home. It was one of the most touching, original comedy dramas of 2012, and now he's back directing, producing and starring in the first of a six-part series inspired by that pilot. Broadhill faces closure following a visit from the council, but the home's manager, Hannah (Kerry Godliman) is determined they stay open and rallies Derek, Dougie (Karl Pilkington) and Kev (David Earl) to raise money for the home.

THURSDAY

The Secret Life of Dogs
ITV, 9pm
Millions of people in Britain share their homes with a dog but how much do we really know about our four-legged friends? Don't worry, this documentary, narrated by Martin Clunes, isn't a shocking exposé about the dark side of canines, but it will give us a new insight into their behaviour, and their incredible hearing and sense of smell. We also get to find out how dogs are putting these 'super powers' to work as we hear from the people who owe their lives to a mutt, including Maureen Burns, who believes her collie cross Max detected her breast cancer before the doctors did.

Rory and Will – Champions of the World, Monday, Channel 5, 9pm

Charlie Brooker's Weekly Wipe
BBC2, 10pm
When it comes to weekly TV review shows, BBC Two has the genre sewn up with The Culture Show and highbrow The Review Show covering similar territory. Thankfully Charlie Brooker has never been a member of the stroky chin brigade, and is more likely to ridicule those who are as here he takes a satirical look back at the events of the past seven days, whether it's news, telly, video games or anything else that winds him up. "Weekly Wipe will be a sort of Omniwipe, encompassing Newswipe, Screenwipe, Gameswipe and 'Stuffwipe,' for want of a better phrase," he Tweeted recently. Some may dislike Brooker's tone, but in a world of slick presenters who look great but say little worth hearing, he's always a breath of fresh air.

FRIDAY

Coronation Street
ITV, 7.30pm
So what if he's charming, well-spoken, and his idea of romance doesn't involve sharing a pack of pork scratchings in the Rovers Return? Lewis is still a wrong 'un. Not content with planning to break Gail's heart and empty her bank balance, the conman is also blackmailing Kylie. He informs the horrified barmaid that he won't tell the rest of Weatherfield know that she could be carrying Nick's baby on the condition that she gets him the password to her mother-in-law's bank account. Meanwhile, Gail is getting ready to tell her family that she's moving to Italy using the £40,000 she's borrowed against the house, but her lover is nowhere to be seen – has he already done a runner with her cash?

Construction nears completion at Evergreens

WALTON Homes' latest housing development, Evergreens in Kingsbury, is 90 per cent build complete with the local developer now putting the finishing touches in place to the executive homes.

Located on Trinity road, the intimate development – consisting of just four luxury properties – presents a range of new architectural designs and high-quality finishes.

In-keeping with the attractive village surroundings and emphasizing the individuality of the generously-sized four and five bedroom homes, each property boasts its own personal name, such as Yewtree House, Orchard House and Evergreen House. All the homes at Evergreens have now been released for sale, with prices starting from £350,000 for a spacious four bedroom property and £395,000 for an exclusive five bedroom home. Each property boasts landscaped front and rear gardens and detached garages, along with large living and kitchen areas, not to mention an additional reception room – ideal for use as a study or playroom.

Nigel Deekes, partner at Acres estate agents, Four Oaks said: "Evergreens is a small, select development in a pleasant village setting, whilst still benefitting from good road links to the M42 and popular out of town shopping centres nearby.

"Offering four substantial homes, the well-designed development perfectly fulfils the needs of growing families. Each property has been built to an excellent standard, boasting careful attention to detail – particularly on those finishing touches which really add value and convenience to modern family living."

Access

Evergreens is situated in an ideal location with good road links to Tamworth and Lichfield.

Helen Rollason, sales manager at Walton Homes added: "Homes are a valuable investment and choosing your dream home is an important decision. People are increasingly turned-off by large uniform estates that lack space and individuality; the homes at Evergreens are perfect for people who are looking for a unique new-build property, as there are only four homes available in two different house designs. Each property comes complete with luxury fixtures and fittings, including Symphony kitchens and contemporary bathrooms equipped with Porcelanosa sanitaryware and high-quality flooring. Those people who reserve before the end of January could have moved into their new dream home in time to see the daffodils come out!"

For further information on Evergreens, visit Acres estate agents in Four Oaks, open Monday to Friday between 9am and 5.30pm and Saturdays between 9am and 4pm and can be found on 74A Walsall Road, Four Oaks, B74 4QY or visit the Millfields marketing suite which is open from 11am – 5pm Thursday to Monday, located on Brookside Way, Wilnecote, Tamworth, B77 5GG. British-built Honda CR-V scoops magazine award

HONDA'S British-built CR-V has scooped the '4x4 of the year' honour from Total 4x4 Magazine.

The judges put the CR-V up against several respected rivals, and after being picked as the best in the 'medium SUV' segment, it became a contender for the overall 'best of the best' title, which it duly won.

Total 4x4 Magazine's testing process is comprehensive, ranging from interior quality, comfort and practicality to repeated drives of a set road route by different judges.

Alan Kidd, the publication's editor, says: "Never before have there been so many likely candidates for the overall title.

"However, from the moment we started crawling around inside the CR-V, it was clear Honda had hit the jackpot. The quality of its interior is on a par with the best, and its flexibility is exceptional – and that was before we actually drove it.

"Seldom has a new 4x4 put such a big tick in so many boxes. It takes an awful lot to impress us these days.

"The new CR-V didn't just impress us, it made our jaws drop."

Treat

Dave Hodgetts, managing director of Honda, was thrilled with the honour.

He says: "For the new CR-V to take its first award so soon after launch is a real festive treat for everyone and a fantastic way to end the year.

"We hope it will be the first of many."

The new CR-V is in dealerships now, with prices starting from £21,395 OTR for the entry level 2.0 i-VTEC S grade 2WD model.

The award-winning Honda CR-V, prices start from £21,395 on the road

Hatchback range gets boost with new model

Mazda2, the marque's best-selling model. Prices range from £10,495 to £13,395

The popular hatchback comes in three and five-door models

LOSING weight can be good for you – and for the planet too, apparently.

Shedding the pounds was one of the abiding principles adopted by the designers of the Mazda2, giving it better performance while using less fuel and reducing carbon dioxide emissions.

It also helps to provide other benefits such as improved braking and more agile handling, in a car which undercuts some big name, big selling competitors on price.

The Mazda2 is a Ford Fiesta-sized hatchback with five seats and a choice of three or five doors, powered by a choice of three lively petrol engines – two of 1.3 litres rated at 75 and 84PS and a 1.5-litre, 102PS version reserved for the Sport model.

Mazda2 prices start at £10,495 for the three-door 'TS Air Con' version while the top of the range Sport costs £13,395.

The latest addition to the line-up is the particularly well-equipped Venture, which comes only in five-door format and uses the 85PS engine. It tackles the 0 to 62mph sprint in 13.6 seconds yet is still capable of averaging 56.5mpg with a low CO_2 figure of 115g/km, so it's not only economical, the road tax bill is tiny too.

The special edition comes with climate control air conditioning, front, side and curtain airbags, electric windows all round, remote central locking a stereo radio and CD player , anti-theft alarm, foglights, alloy wheels, folding and heated door mirrors, privacy glass, ABS, brakeforce distribution and emergency brake assist.

Sleek

Side skirts and a rear roof spoiler add to the sleek and sporty appearance of the standard car.

Its specification and price are likely to ensure that the Mazda2 remains the manufacturer's best-selling model.

To get back to the subject of weight, though, the innovations which led to the creation of the Mazda2 won it the title of World Car of the Year in 2008.

Thanks to the use of new, stronger but lighter materials the engineers managed to trim 100kg off the new model compared to its predecessor without comprising its structural integrity and safety. In fact, it was awarded a maximum five stars for adult occupants' safety by EuroNCAP.

It added another strength too: its structure helps to reduce vibration and noise, creating a more refined and comfortable ride. It's agile on the open road, while electric power steering make it light and easy to handle around town.

The Mazda2 stands up well to its big name rivals in most areas – price (particularly with the well kitted out Venture), performance/economy and passenger accommodation. It does, however, lag behind some of them in terms of luggage space: 250 litres with five on board, 469 litres with the rear seats folded.

The lack of a diesel option may deter some potential buyers, but bearing in mind the 56.5mpg official average and the extra 5p per litre you pay for diesel, you'd have to be a well above average mileage driver to derive any benefit from an oil burner.

"Its structure helps to reduce vibration and noise, creating a more refined and comfortable ride"

Nissan has new edition to line-up of Qashqai

NISSAN has created a new edition of the best-selling Qashqai crossover.

The 360 replaces the mid-range n-tec+ trim level and offers more equipment for the same sub-£20,000 starting list price.

Although the name suggests that the 360-degree parking camera system called Around View Monitor is new, it was already fitted to the n-tec+.

Identify

The 360 improves on the kit list with part-leather trim and double white stitching, a gloss black gearlever surround, gloss black door handles and a leather armrest.

On the outside, gloss black roof rails and '360' badges identify the new arrival.

As before, 18in alloy wheels, a panoramic roof and privacy glass around the rear of the car are standard features.

All engines and transmission options are to be made available in the 360, both in the Qashqai and the seven-seat '+2' variant.

Petrol choices consist of 1.6- and 2.0-litre units with manual and continually variable transmissions, while there are 1.5-, 1.6- and 2.0-litre litre diesels on hand.

Output

The likely best-seller in the UK is the front-wheel drive 1.6-litre dCi diesel with stop-start technology, which records a CO2 output of 119g/km and scores 62.8mpg on the standard European test cycle.

The 360 is on sale now, starting at £19,945 for the 1.6 petrol with a five-speed manual gearbox.

The cheapest diesel, a 1.5-litre 109bhp unit with a six-speed manual transmission, costs £21,645. That then rises to £23,145 for the expected best-selling 1.6 diesel.

Most expensive of the 360s is the £25,895 2.0-litre diesel, which with 148bhp is linked only to an automatic transmission and four-wheel drive.

Luke Preece – excelled in first year

Top award for Luke

APPRENTICE Luke Preece from Essington has achieved a top honour.

The 18-year-old is a Volvo network first year apprentice of the year.

Luke has been awarded the honour for his first year's work at Brindley Volvo, the Codsall-based dealership.

His service manager Stuart Hopcraft said the dealership was "very proud" of Luke's achievement.

"He is well on course for a very successful career in the motor industry," added Stuart.

Get a grip – parts adviser Adam Leek with one of the Brindley Volvo winter tyres

Time is right to fit winter tyres

WINTRY road conditions have served as a timely reminder of the need to consider a set of winter tyres.

The reminder has come from Brindley Volvo of Codsall whose parts supervisor Mark Hopkins is inviting customers "to be ready for winter".

He said the Volvo dealership was currently offering exceptional value on a new set of tyres and alloy wheels which Brindley Volvo would fit.

"With the forecast of a hard winter, a new set of winter tyres will keep motorists on the road," said Mark.

"They are an essential safety item – not a fashion item.

Safety

"They work best when the temperature is below 7 degrees C or less reducing braking distances and increasing grip levels."

He said wheel sizes ranged from 16" to 20".

Brindley Volvo, said Mark, were also offering winter packs and winter kits as well as a safety check – the latter being free.

New Volvo S40 unleashed to take on the opposition

Andy Albutt and the all-new V40 at Brindley Volvo, Codsall

VOLVO has filled a significant gap in its model range with the all-new V40 five door hatchback.

Brindley Volvo sales manager Andy Albutt said the V40, which had replaced the S40 saloon and V50 estate models, had now given Volvo a direct rival to its major competitors.

Andy, who has spent the last two and a half years as sales manager of Codsall-based Brindley Volvo, said the V40's styling had elements of the S60, V60 and XC60 with a hint of C30 at the rear. The V40 sits on a modified version of the platform used for the C30, S40 and V50. The wheelbase is 1cm longer while the body is 14cm longer and 3cm lower."

He said the cabin had a very similar look to the S60 and used much of the same switchgear.

"One of the surprise features is the illuminated gear knob which uses LEDs under a plastic cover to show which gear you're in. It's part of an affordable option for both manual and auto versions."

Andy, who heads a sales team of five at Brindley Volvo, said he was impressed with the range of hi-tech safety features.

The V40 starts from £19,995 on the road.

The SsangYong Rodius with 2.0-litre 153bhp diesel unit offers impressive flexibility

Budget people carrier gets new diesel engine

SSANGYONG has fitted the Rodius with a new diesel engine for 2013, making the budget seven-seat people carrier better value than ever.

The 2.0-litre, 153bhp unit offers a claimed 266lb/ft of torque from just 1,500rpm, maintaining that peak until 2,800rpm and giving impressive flexibility particularly for towing. Its fuel economy is 38.7mpg combined. With all seven seats installed, the Rodius has 875 litres of luggage space floor to ceiling. It increases to 2,271 litres with the rear three seats removed.

Electronic

The entry-level £15,995 S model has a Kenwood audio system, climate control, full electric windows and Bluetooth connectivity as standard, along with ESP stability control, ABS with electronic brake-force distribution (EBD) and Isofix child seat mounts.

Mid-range ES spec adds heated leather front seats, alloy wheels and rear privacy glass, while also opening up the option of a tried-and-tested Mercedes-sourced five-speed automatic gearbox. It costs £17,995 for the manual and £19,495 for the auto.

The flagship model is the EX, which benefits from a switchable four-wheel drive system to aid with towing in difficult conditions.

Capable of towing up to 2,000kg, the automatic-only EX costs £21,995.

George's top tips to bring out the new driver in you

George Partou – ideas for a smoother new year drive

GEORGE Partou, marketing manager for Vision Vauxhall, in Stafford, shares his thoughts on new year's resolutions behind the wheel.

His top tip for the new year is – banish bad driving and brush-up on motoring etiquette.

New year is the time for resolutions and turning over a new leaf. So, before you fall off the bandwagon completely, turn your thoughts to your performance behind the wheel, where, admittedly, we could all do with some improvements.

Now is the perfect time to address your in-car etiquette and make a fresh start for a smooth ride in 2013.

So whether it's cooling off in a tailback or treating your car to some TLC, read on for new year's resolutions to kick start the all-new driver in you.

1. A poll conducted by the AA found that 70 per cent of participants' new year's resolutions were to avoid getting parking tickets. So, if you find yourself regularly pleading with the parking attendant to stop writing that ticket out, make 2013 the year you plan your parking ahead.

2. As 99 per cent of road accidents in Britain are caused by human error, it's no surprise that being a safer driver is one of the most popular goals to have, and this includes avoiding creeping over the speed limit. But, with many insurance companies now offering money back in return for careful driving, not only will you see a direct benefit in your pocket, it will also make you a more mindful driver, overall.

Trait

3. Road rage was a common guilty trait, with 58 per cent of those polled aiming to drive less aggressively. So, next time you feel the rage boiling up inside you, take a deep breath to avoid taking it out on your car or other road users.

4. For the calmer drivers out there, driving more economically is often a priority. Try and stay in a high gear to burn less fuel, turn off your engine when you are stationary for longer than a couple of minutes, or invest in a car which has a low fuel consumption.

5. A common annoyance for drivers is the risk of breaking down, but this can be easily avoided. Remember to get your oil levels and tyre pressures regularly checked.

As with every new year it's now time to take stock, so make this new year's resolution one to remember in the motoring stakes.

Baxendale is happy to stay under the radar

JAMES BAXENDALE insists Walsall are happy to slip under the radar as they close in on the play-offs.

The winger penned a new 18-month deal – joining Jake Jones who inked a contract until the end of the season – and is keen for the Saddlers to ignore play-off talk.

Walsall have won six of their last seven games to move 10th, within two points of the League One play-off spots ahead of Saturday's visit to fourth-bottom Colchester.

Yet the Saddlers only ended a 16-match winless run with a 1-0 victory over Colchester last month – and Baxendale wants their progress to remain undetected.

"We'll keep doing what we're good at and then who knows?" he said.

"We'll keep going on this run and people will talk about it but we'll just keep doing what we're doing.

"If people want to talk about us, then that's fine – but we just want to keep this run going as much as we can.

"We're on a good run and we're going to do everything we can to keep it going.

Good

"We never stopped believing and we kept to our principles. The boys work together and you can see when we do play well we're a good team."

The 20-year-old, who joined on a free from Doncaster in the summer, returned after two months without a start to score in the previous week's 3-1 win at Preston.

He helped Walsall end Bournemouth's 15-game unbeaten run with a 3-1 win on Saturday and hopes he has taken his chance.

He added: "You want to do well for yourself and want the team to win. I hadn't been involved as much as I'd like, but the boys had been playing well and I've been happy to be part of it.

"It's a team game and you've got to do everything you can do get back into the team. We're all champing at the bit to get into the team and hopefully I've taken my chance."

Winger Jones signed his deal and immediately joined Blue Square Premier side Lincoln on an initial month's loan.

The 19-year-old made eight appearances this season, including two against the Imps as they knocked Walsall out of the FA Cup.

No penalty as Will Grigg falls in contact with David James

Walsall's Adam Chambers battles to get possession

Febian Brandy's afternoon comes to an early end

Walsall's whistle-stop rise up table goes on

JUST six weeks ago, time looked like being blown on Walsall's season – but you should always play to the whistle.

They have gone from two points above the relegation zone to five points adrift of the play-offs, writes Nick Mashiter.

They recorded a fourth straight win with a 3-1 victory over Bournemouth in which Eunan O'Kane will struggle to live down a second-half gaffe which 'handed' Saddlers a second penalty and the points on Saturday.

Walsall 3
Bournemouth 1

Walsall boss Dean Smith joked he had seen it before – on the training ground – but O'Kane will suffer for weeks after casually picking up the ball in the area expecting the whistle as Will Grigg was tripped outside the box.

It never came and Grigg's resulting penalty settled a game which included a red card for Febian Brandy.

Victory completed a double over big-spending Bournemouth and ended their 15-match unbeaten run in the league.

Hailed

Smith hailed it as one of his best but Walsall will be acutely aware of what happened after their last victory over the Cherries. A 16-match winless run followed Dean Court success.

Getting to 50 points remains the target; history dictates that. But why, after a barren two years, can't the club and its long-suffering fans dare to dream?

Striker Grigg's form continues to inspire. The biggest criticism levelled at the 21-year-old is that, for all his graft, he fails to score enough. But after he netted his 10th goal of the season, that doubt is ebbing away.

He won the first penalty, which he scored to put Walsall 2-0 up, after running onto his own flick, beating the backline and teasing a foul from David James in first-half stoppage time.

Before then only Tommy Elphick's outstretched boot denied him the opener – an honour which went to Sam Mantom when his 27th minute cross-shot dropped into the corner.

The Saddlers' dominance was only threatened when Brett Pitman crashed a header onto the bar seven minutes from the break.

But Walsall went 2-0 up at half-time thanks to Grigg's persistence.

Pitman's header made it 2-1 three minutes after the interval and Brandy, on a yellow, walked on 71 minutes after diving in on O'Kane as James spilled a free-kick. Cue nerves, but Grigg's second spot-kick settled them.

Academy youngsters colour-coded for success

YOUNG darts players hoping to make their name on the oche are signing up with a darts academy in Cannock.

The Steve Brown Darts Academy, at Rileys Sports Bar, supports and motivates young players to improve skills with weekly challenges.

Players are awarded different coloured shirts as they progress, in similar style to the martial arts belt system.

Darts player Brown has a series of academies across the country which run tournaments nationally and locally.

Youngsters aged eight to 16 meet at Rileys every Wednesday evening from 6.30pm.

The Cannock academy is also planning to develop a youth league for 16 to 25-year-olds.

It can be contacted through Twitter and Facebook as SBDA Cannock.

New faces needed by cricket club

NEW players of all ages are being sought by a Chase cricket club.

Burntwood St Matthews Cricket Club are starting a new series of training sessions for various age groups.

The sessions run at Erasmus Darwin Academy in Pool Road, Chasetown, on Wednesday nights.

The under-11s session is from 7-8pm; under-13s train from 8-9pm and under-15s from 9-10pm.

Anyone interested should turn up or contact Nick on 07917 461763 or George on 07830 299514.

The club are also hosting a sportsman's dinner featuring a visit from ex-England batsman and Strictly Come Dancing winner Mark Ramprakash.

The event is on February 27, starting at 7pm. The ticket price of £35 includes a three-course meal and entertainment from a comedian.

For tickets, email farmerjh@aol.com or call 01543 671067.

Ward's big break puts Sedgley into semis

LANDYWOOD B failed to overturn a handicap of 120 as Sedgley Ex-Service won through to the West Midlands Snooker League Challenge Cup quarter-finals.

Despite a long history in the league, they have won the cup only once – in 1978.

But their A squad dished out a 245-point thrashing to the Cheslyn Hay-based fellow Division One, Daniel Ward knocking in a superb 125 in the opening frame.

Golden Cue SC B of Division Three received 170 and put out Division One side Woodcross WMC B at home by a 111-point margin.

In Division One, the top two both won 4-1 as the gap at the top stayed at five points with Brandhall Labour clear of Sedgley Ex-Service A. Brandhall visited relegation threatened Pennfields BC A for a comfortable win. Pennfields' consolation frame was by Paul Dunn.

Sedgley Ex-Service A demolished Hotshots SC A with only Milan Krstanovic's last frame win preventing a whitewash.

In Division Two the top three were all at home against teams in the bottom half of the table – yet all lost 3-2.

Leaders British Rail A lost the first three frames to Dartmouth Central before Steve Giles and Robin Bood ensured the Rail kept the match score respectable.

Woodfield Social A's match with visitors Pennfields BC B went to a deciding frame which Tony Poole won for the away team.

Sedgley WMC A also lost 3-2 at home against struggling Stafford Institute B despite Paul Shakespeare taking the opening frame with a break of 82.

Foot steps up to take the Prizefighter crown

PRIZEFIGHTER couldn't produce a local hero at Wolverhampton Civic Hall with the West Midlands contingent falling at the first hurdle.

Instead it was Glenn Foot who grabbed the trophy and £34,000 as Matchroom took the third instalment of the eight-man, three-rounds-a-fight contest to the Civic after the success of last February's debut.

Stafford's Rob Hunt, Stourbridge duo Sam Eggington and Steven Pearce and Birmingham's Calum Cooper all made an early exit but banked £4,000.

by Craig Birch

Saturday night's welterweight show attracted a sell-out crowd to the Civic and the Sky Sports cameras with Hunt first on in a tough draw – against bookies' favourite Mark Thompson.

Hunt was under pressure from the opening bell and was marked near the eye by the end of the first round.

A left hook to the jaw pegged him to the ropes and forced him to battle back out. From there, he elected to get on his toes but remained far too easy to hit.

Youngest

A clash of heads forced the finish, Hunt suffering a cut under the right eye and ruled unable to continue.

Eggington, up against Dale Evans, became the youngest fighter to appear in Prizefighter.

The 19-year-old is a two-time national champion as an amateur for Warley ABC, winning the Clubs for Young People and ABA Novice titles. But he has had just three professional fights.

He walked on to a hammer of a right hook and was close to being on the deck, but gamely fought back and landed a big right. All three judges ruled for Evans.

Cooper suffered a pasting from Yorkshireman Chad Gaynor and was stopped in the first round.

Pearce, meanwhile, was stopped in his bout against Foot.

Pearce dropped his head in the second round as his opponent launched a right hook which hit the back of the skull. It could have been deemed illegal. Although Pearce beat the count, he was quickly stopped.

A first semi-final saw Thompson against Evans and the latter edged through 29-28. Foot's workrate saw him through on points against Gaynor in the other semi.

In the final Foot took the title on a split decision.

Birmingham's talented Kal Yafai beat Mexican import Gonzalo Garcia in the night's other bout, stopping him in the fourth round of a scheduled bantamweight eight-rounder.

Monmore awarded Brit final yet again

WOLVERHAMPTON Speedway have again been awarded the showpiece British final at Monmore Green.

The club host the meeting on Monday, May 13, as the nation's 16 best riders will do battle for a national crown currently held by Coventry's Scott Nicholls.

It is a fourth consecutive staging of the final at Monmore – which also hosted in 2007.

Incredibly, apart from Joe Screen's victory in 2004, only Scott Nicholls and Chris Harris have stood on the rostrum's top step in the last 11 years.

No-one will be keener to break that duopoly than Parrys International Wolves star Tai Woffinden.

He has finished third in the event no fewer than four times and has twice been leading the final only for Edward Kennett crashes to force reruns which he lost.

That was his fate last year when he admitted: "I was desperate for that title."

Club owner Chris Van Straaten said: "We are delighted to be hosting this meeting once again.

"It really is one of the highlights on the domestic calendar."

Monmore also stages the British Under-21 final – under the Dudley Heathens promotion banner – on Tuesday, April 23.

Major speedway events 2013: April 23, British Under-21 final, Dudley (at Wolverhampton); May 13, British final, Wolverhampton (semi-finals April 19 at Edinburgh and April 25 at Sheffield); May 31, Premier League pairs, Somerset; July 14, Premier League fours, Peterborough; August 10, World under-21 final round three, Berwick; August 24, Grand Prix challenge, Poole; September 22, Premier League riders' championship, Sheffield; October 12, Elite League riders' championship, Swindon.

Students battle for supremacy

MORE than 1,500 students from 28 colleges battled it out in the TradePoint British Colleges Sport West Midlands regional tournaments.

The competitions determined who will represent the region at the national championships in March at the University of Bath.

The tournament series involved 12 sports over a number of weeks.

Newcastle-under-Lyme College won the men's volleyball and Zoe Hallum of The City of Stoke-on-Trent Sixth Form College took the women's singles table tennis.

Top note on way, despite the snow

HEDNESFORD Town are out to show they don't just sing when they're winning.

The big freeze has cut a swathe through football fixtures, with the Pitmen among those to suffer. But Town are out to beat the winter blues with a choir night.

Tuesday night's home game against Fylde was the third straight postponement for Hednesford. Their next scheduled game is on Saturday at Kendal, but the club are urging supporters to monitor www.hednesfordtownfc.com for information on the fixture.

However, Town will welcome Cannock Chase Orpheus Male Choir to Keys Park on Saturday, February 9 along with guest soprano Sharron Burns.

Proceeds from the evening, organised on behalf of the Chase Community Fund, will go towards providing grants and funding for community groups in the area.

Chorister Brian Marks said the choir were looking forward to the event.

"It's great to bring the choir to the football club at Keys Park and I'm sure supporters of Hednesford Town will help us in raising money for what is a really worthwhile cause," he said.

Tickets, priced at £5.75, can be purchased by calling 01543 684805, 01922 410209 or from the Hednesford Town commercial office on 01543 422870.

Big entry for rally series

ORGANISERS of the Heart of England rally championships have attracted a record entry for the 2013 competition.

More than 35 drivers from West Midlands clubs have already committed to the eight-round series, along with nearly 20 co-drivers.

One of the rounds will be held at Weston Park, close to the Staffordshire/Shropshire border.

A wide range of cars will feature in the two-wheel drive events, from the traditional Vauxhall Novas and Ford Escorts to the more exotic BMW 123 Diesel and a Ford Focus RWD.

The planned test day and series launch at the Curborough sprint circuit near Lichfield this Saturday has been cancelled because of the snowy weather.

Arjan sees gold medal slip away at the death

Hockey

CANNOCK hockey player Arjan Drayton-Chana was left wondering 'what if' after seeing a gold medal slip through his fingers at the Australian Youth Olympic Festival.

Sunday saw Drayton-Chan and Britain's men's hockey team face off against old foe Australia, keen to avenge defeat by the hosts in the round-robin stage three days earlier.

This time there was much more riding on the result as teams fought it out for gold but things didn't look good as Great Britain trailed 3-0 at half-time.

However Drayton-Chana and co upped the tempo after the break and went 4-3 ahead before Australia levelled at the death and stole the win in extra-time with a golden goal. Despite admitting he would have taken silver before travelling Down Under, 18-year-old Drayton-Chana, who plays for Cannock, insists the way it arrived was tough to take.

"I have mixed emotions about the silver medal," he said. "If someone had said 'you will win silver' before the tournament I would have been pleased but to get so close to gold is so frustrating and I think we should have won gold. Silly mistakes cost us and for the neutral it was probably one of the best games they will see but for us we feel like it was a missed opportunity.

"Being three goals down at half-time we rallied the troops in the changing room and fought back to lead 4-3 and then to lose it in extra time was gutting. We didn't change much tactically but mentally we just had to change it as we knew we were fitter and we knew the goals would game.

"They did but unfortunately the gold didn't but a silver medal is never bad I suppose."

This was Drayton-Chana's first taste of an Olympic-style event and, even though he watched as the gold medal slipped away right at the death, he hasn't been put off doing it all again when the next opportunity arises.

"The whole Festival was fantastic and we really came together as a team and as a family," he added.

"Being around other sports, playing on the same pitches as the Sydney Olympics, representing Team GB at a Games – it was all brilliant and I could definitely get used to this level of competition."

EGAN TAKES STOCK WITH EARLY BLOW

CANNOCK'S Dave Egan scored his first stoppage win in style after flattening Ricky Stock with a devastating blow on the BoxNation televised bill at Walsall Town Hall.

Egan took just 93 seconds of round one to halt Stock in his fourth professional fight, his previous three wins all coming on points.

The former Chasetown footballer had a ball and knew he was onto a winner when a jab made Stock's eyes glaze over and he piled on the pressure accordingly.

by Craig Birch

'Handsome Dave' clunked Stock to the jaw with a right hook and repeated the trick to maximum effort.

The third one had all of Egan's might behind it and laid out his opponent, referee Gareth Morris immediately dispensing with the count and calling for medical assistance.

Luton's Stock left the ring under his own steam but was pretty stunned after going the distance in his first and only previous fight, a losing effort to Jamie Zaszlos.

Debut

But Egan could not contain his delight after scoring the knockout after coming down a weight to light-welter.

The 29-year-old was well-received after making his debut at the same venue last year and knows the town well, having previously boxed for Walsall Wood ABC as an amateur.

Meanwhile, Walsall's Martin Gethin was crowned the new British lightweight champion in front of a raucous home crowd – but fellow 'home' fighter Jason Welborn fell as expected to Frankie Gavin.

Gethin's pressure told on Ben Murphy with the belt up-for-grabs in the ninth round as he forced the stoppage, handing the coveted belt to the IBF International and two-time English champion.

But Rowley Regis' Welborn's dream of glory ended in a one-sided affair to Birmingham welterweight Gavin, going down in the seventh with the referee again forced to step in.

There was also Midlands title joy for Walsall's Christopher Keane, who claimed the area cruiserweight crown with a third-round win over Nottingham's Shane McPhilbin, the British champion at the turn of last year.

In another first-round stoppage before the BoxNation cameras went on the air, Leamington Spa's John Robinson had no answer to Birmingham super middleweight Andrew Robinson's assaults.

When the BoxNation broadcast started rolling, Stafford's Grant Cunningham stepped up to six rounds against Mitch Mitchell.

Cunningham put Mitchell down, slumping him down into the corner with a stinging right hook to the body in the fourth round, but 'Mad' Mitchell survived to the end.

Club will host the Italians

AN UNDER-16 rugby union international is to be held in Staffordshire.

England will face Italy in the county on Easter Monday, April 1.

The match will be at Lichfield RUFC, Cooke Fields, Tamworth Road.

The Staffordshire club have also been chosen to become an O2 Touch Centre.

The project, run with the Rugby Football Union, means the club will operate weekly "pitch up and play" touch rugby sessions.

These start on Monday, February 4, and run from 7 to 8pm.

They are open for both males and females aged 12 and over and those taking part can be former, current or new players.

Sessions are free to club members and cost £2 per session for others.

Lichfield hopes to run a touch rugby league in the summers.

The idea is to increase player numbers in the run-up to the 2015 World Cup, which is being staged in England.

It also hopes to boost the numbers as rugby, in the sevens format, prepares for its return to Olympic Games in 2016.

Possible date for called-off match

BURNTWOOD RUFC's twice-postponed league match at Yardley & District may be re-scheduled for Saturday, February 9.

The following day, at 1.30pm, Burntwood host Staffordshire U20s against Oxfordshire U20s in the final pool game of the County Championship Shield competition.

Admission is free.
